Battle lines drawn over grant for Chamber

Minden council debates issue in wake of Lutterworth reeve's call for funding cutoff

Manoeuvres have begun in preparation for a battle over the future of the Chamber of Commerce expected to break out at the September meeting of Haliburton County council.

The first indication of rising tension came in July, when Lutterworth reeve Ron Gambell and Stanhope deputy reeve Elgin Stouffer told council they were accomplishing little as representatives to the Chamber board. By the end of the month Gambell had submitted his resignation from the job. And at a recent meeting of Lutterworth council, he went a substantial step farther, advocating a complete withdrawal of county funding from the Chamber, a position supported by a resolution of his council.

Last Thursday, Anson, Hindon and Minden council began mapping out strategy after councillor Gary Kenney asked reeve Lyle McKnight and deputy reeve Ed Pergolas how they would react to the issue when it reaches the county council table.

Pergolas responded by saying that he had read no report from the Chamber or from county council's representatives to the board.

"We've had no written report that we can digest and ask questions on," Pergolas said. "I'm not saying they're right or they're wrong. But how can you decide an important issue like that when you have no information?" Pergolas also emphasized that he would oppose any motion to discuss the Chamber issue in committee of the whole, with the press and public excluded.

Councillor Dave Stevens said that while there may be some dissatisfaction with the Chamber, "that doesn't mean you don't support it," since much of the money county council provides is used to advertise and promote the county.

Stevens criticized the Chamber's practice of distributing directories and other information to local residents, however.

"Do we have to tell ourselves how great we are?" he asked. "I think we want to tell other people."

Reeve Lyle McKnight noted that some members of county council are upset with the Chamber because a planned press party to draw attention to the area was never held, even though council thought money for it was earmarked in the grant. McKnight also said he felt that in maintaining an office on Highway 35 where tourist information is handed out, the Chamber is "duplicating services" provided at booths in several area municipalities.

"Eventually I think the Chamber will become a Chamber and not an information booth," McKnight said.

He agreed with Stevens that some people may be upset with the Chamber because brochures are

Concern about poll location called nonsense

Some local Conservative supporters were up in arms Saturday over the location of an advance poll in Haliburton, but the returning officer of Victoria-Haliburton has described the complaint as "a lot of nonsense."

The advance poll was located in an office at the Dysart municipal office used two days a week as a constituency office for Liberal MPP John Eakins. But according to electoral officer John Bovie the office is also used by the MTC, and contained no partisan political material other than a photograph of the provincial member with some Haliburton school children.

Complaints about the location of the poll came from local Conservative poll captain Art Ward, who phoned the electoral office in Lindsay to claim that another spot should have been chosen. Ward said the poll was not in the location that had been advertised, and claimed some people failed to notice it and left without voting.

But Bovie says he drove to Haliburton shortly after his office received the complaint and found no one who was inconvenienced by the location of the poll.

"The electorate doesn't seem to be upset," Bovie said, "only Mr. Ward."

Advance polls are usually held in the Legion hall, but the facility was not available last Saturday, Bovie said.

The Dysart municipal office was "the best available building," Bovie said, adding that the clerk's office was too small to be suitable, so the adjacent office was selected. "I don't consider it a constituency office," Bovie said, noting that it is owned by and rented from the municipality.

"It's much ado about nothing," said Bovie. "It's a non story. It hasn't affected one elector."

"I've made no error in terms of that polling station," Bovie said.

The advance poll continued through Tuesday from noon to 8 p.m.

PineStone golf course is officially opened

president Wren Blair, MPP Jim Pollock, MPP John Eakins, County Warden Lyle McKnight, and Dysart al reeve Murray Fearney.

Minden council appoints new clerk

Anson, Hindon and Minden council has chosen Beverley Millar to assume the job of clerk-treasurer and tax collector for the municipality. Millar, former deputy clerk of Anson, Hinson and Minden, replaces Elinor Burk, whose resignation was accepted officially at a council session last Thursday night.

Millar has an Association of Municipal Clerk Treasurers (AMCT) certificate as well as Bachelor of Physical and Health Education degree from the University of Toronto. She has been deputy clerk-treasurer of Anson, Hindon and Minden for the past seven years, and was formerly clerk of Lutterworth Township. She also has experience with area legal firms.

Council accepted Burk's resignation "with regret" on Thursday. Reeve Lyle McKnight expressed council's good wishes to Burk, who steps down on September 1 and will be joining the office of accountant Gary Thurston in October. "I think we're going to miss your expertise," McKnight told Burk.

For her part, Burk noted that the present council had proven to be "one of the most demanding" she had worked with in her seven years as clerk of the municipality.

Burk observed good humouredly that among the demands of the job that she will not miss are night meetings and the stale donuts that often accompany them. She added that she would be willing to assist the municipality if necessary in the transition period over the next few weeks.

Millar will assume her new responsibilities on September 1.

Kinmount Fair adds new attractions

Final preparations are underway this week for the 112th edition of the Kinmount Fair. Secretary Guy Scott said the extensive grounds on the outskirts of the hamlet have been spruced up in anticipation of the large number of competitors, exhibitors and spectators expected to be on hand for this year's event.

Organizers have added a number of new attractions this year, as well as revived an old tradition of naming a queen of the Fair, which has not been part of the most recent fairs. The queen will be chosen Friday night at a kickoff dance, and will reign over a busy schedule of events on Saturday and Sunday.

The agricultural atmosphere that is one of the most attractive aspects of the Kinmount Fair is expected to be enhanced this year by a larger number of competitors in farm animal categories.

"We're a class 'B' fair this year, and that means we have to upgrade our livestock show quite a bit," Scott said. "I think we've done a pretty good job of that."

The main events of the fair get underway at 11 a.m. Saturday when the exhibit hall opens and fair-goers get their first opportunity to view the hundreds of entries in the food, flower and craft competitions.

Livestock judging will begin at 11:30 a.m. and will continue throughout the afternoon.

One of the highlights of the fair is the warriors day parade, and this year's procession will be rendered more colourful by the mailed to local residents.

"This is where I think they're going wrong," McKnight said. "It makes you start to think that you're not using the people's money wisely."

Councillor Gary Kenney's main thrust was the apparent lack of accountability surrounding the county's $60,000 grant to the Chamber. He noted that while he is critical of the Chamber, which in his view is not a Chamber but a "tourist association", he is also critical of county council for not monitoring more closely the way the funds are spent.

"I think they should be spending three times as much," Kenney said, but in such a way that results can be monitored and decisions made about whether the spending is worthwhile.

"You're asking them to do a professional job with $60,000 that they're not capable of doing," Kenney said.

Pergolas noted that the fact that county council "can't get the answers" to how the money has been spent has "blown the top off." The Chamber asked for $90,000 from the county and was given $60,000, but council has not been told where the Chamber's budget is being cut because of the smaller grant. "That's the frustrating part," Pergolas said.

Councillor Gary Kenney put some of the blame for the present dissatisfaction with the Chamber on the lack of an established and detailed reporting system.

"It boggles my mind that you can go for eight or 10 months and then get so frustrated that one municipality can say 'let's pull the plug out,'" Kenney noted.

Councillor Dave Stevens responded that Lutterworth's suggestion to withdraw funding is "foolish", but Kenney countered that foolish or not, a system of monitoring should have been implemented.

Reeve Lyle McKnight said he felt the Chamber manager "should perhaps be reporting back to county council." He also commented that part of the Lutterworth reeve's

Police News

General Occurrences

During the period of August 20 to 26, personnel at Minden Detachment investigated the following occurrences: six motor vehicle accidents (no personal injury) and 81 general occurrences, including 11 break and enters, 11 lost and found, seven thefts and five noise complaints.

Weekend Problems

This past weekend saw Minden officers answering complaints of noisy parties, dangerous boating and other cottage country occurrences. Saturday night/Sunday morning also saw the criminal element at work in the county. At 9:00 p.m. two officers, Cpl. Steve Adam and PC Boyd Jarvis interrupted a break and enter at progress at the Lutterworth Township offices on Highway 35. Upon their arrival, the culprits ran off into the woods behind the office and have not yet been apprehended. Some clues as to their identity however, were recovered at the scene. The library portion was forcibly entered as was the main office. The nearby Township garage was also broken into. Nothing is believed to have been stolen due to the hasty retreat of the burglars.

Sometime the following morning, after midnight, persons unknown broke into the Minden Shell Service Centre on Highway 35, removed a set of keys, then used them to steal a 1984 Ford Motorhome which was parked outside. The vehicle is described as being 24 ft. in length, with a V8 engine and is coloured white with bronze stripes. There were no licence plates on the motorhome at the time it was stolen. It is valued at $34,000. PC Bob Wood is investigating.

Also sometime Sunday morning persons unknown broke into the Home and Hearth Store in Carnarvon and peeled open the safe. It has not yet been determined how much was stolen. PC Mike Maher is investigating.

The No. 8 District Identification Unit from OPP District Headquarters in Peterborough is assisting in the three occurrences.

Moore Falls Theft

On Saturday afternoon a youth was seen to run from the Moore Lake Marine store on Highway 35 with a $180 crossbow packaged with four arrows. He was chased north across the bridge but disappeared into the bush. His identity has not yet been learned.

The last days of August are a perfect time for a leisurely board sail on Lake Kashagawigamog, with sun sparkling on warm waters and a steady breeze to propel you along.

LACAC set to form

Three Minden area citizens have been appointed members of the Local Architectural Conservancy Advisory Committee, or LACAC, which may be formed in Minden if at least two other interested citizens can be found. Dwight Thomas, Laura Kirkwood and Bob MacBrien will be asked to sit on a steering committee which may lead to the formation of a LACAC. Council made the decision last Thursday.

appointing the three people who indicated an interest in the committee when it was advertised in the Minden Times.

The three will serve as "interim co chairmen" of the committee, which will advise council on structures in the community worthy of designation for preservation.

Council will appoint a representative to the committee once the membership has been established.

Playground arouses concern

Minden council will ask its parks committee to investigate the condition of a municipal playground adjacent to the township offices after a ratepayer complained that equipment was in a dangerous state of disrepair.

In a letter to council, a mother of pre school children cited a number of problems with the equipment which she believed could lead to injury for a child and a possible law suit for the municipality. Among the problems cited in the letter were rough edged wood, missing bolts, gaps between a platform and the top of a slide, and a teeter-totter which is missing a seat.

While council was not aware of the problems, it did not doubt their existence, and agreed that the matter should be taken up by the parks department for possible remedial action.

Group sponsors candidates meeting

The Victoria County Federation of Agriculture is sponsoring a "Meet The Candidates Night" on Thursday, August 30, at eight o'clock, in the conference room, at the Government Building, Lindsay. Purpose of the meeting is to inform federal candidates of the concern of farmers, and to hear their views. A question and answer period is planned, during which people can ask about any issues of particular concern to them. All commodity groups, beef, pork, poultry, milk, fruit and vegetables, sheep, grain, and corn growers are invited to participate.

Organizers say the meeting is planned primarily to discuss the problems of the agricultural industry, and that everyone is welcome.

Mouthguard clinic scheduled

The dental services unit of the Haliburton Kawartha Pine Ridge District Health Unit will sponsor a mouthguard clinic at Haliburton high school on Thursday, September 6.

For a fee of $6, technicians will take an impression of students' top teeth and create a mouthguard designed to protect against tooth damage, concussion and jaw fractures in team sports.

The Health Unit has operated the clinics for the past 10 years in schools throughout the district, and has provided approximately 6000 mouthguards in that period.

Minden council minutes

At a meeting of Anson, Hindon and Minden council last Thursday night, the following matters were discussed:

V.K. Gilbert, president and R. Pink, vice-president of the Horseshoe Lake Property Owners Association, attended to introduce themselves to council and advise that although elected to serve their constituents, they would do so with an open mind.

Property fronting part of the original allowance for road in front of Lot 1, Concession 4 in the Township of Hindon as shown on a sketch submitted by Fraser Rogers will be stopped up, closed and conveyed to the adjacent landowners subject to the following conditions: 1. Parts 4 and 12 on the sketch shall be conveyed to the property owners across the road provided that the sections be added to the main properties and the road shall not create a natural severance. 2. Payment of the various parties as outlined in the schedule submitted by Fraser Rogers. 3. The township be given deeds to the road from all the parties involved. This resolution Please turn to Page 5

Red Cross honoured for support of hospitals

Haliburton and Minden hospitals no longer are administered by the Ontario division of the Canadian Red Cross, control of the facilities having been transferred earlier this year to the board of trustees of St. Joseph's General Hospital in Peterborough, after more than two years of planning. But the contribution made by the Red Cross to the local hospitals has not been forgotten. At ceremonies in Haliburton and Minden last Wednesday, hospital officials, political representatives and local citizens closely involved with the facilities gathered to recognize the effort made by the community to establish and maintain the local hospitals.

Chairman of the ceremonies was Leo B. Doiron, executive director of St. Joseph's hospital. Among those taking part in the occasion and introduced by Doiron were John Turner, speaker of the provincial legislature and a former member of the St. Joseph's board of trustees, current board chairman Carol Pulver, Sister Veronica O'Rielly, general superior of the Sisters of St. Joseph; Bob Mitchell, parliamentary assistant to provincial health minister Keith Norton and MPP for Carlton; James Swanston, chairman of the Haliburton, Kawartha, Pine Ridge District Health Council; Brigadier General James Westhead, archivist for the Ontario Division of the Red Cross Society; Barbara Dawson, chairman of the Haliburton branch of the Red Cross and a member of the St. Joseph's Hospital board of trustees; Dr. Robert Durnin, chief of staff for St. Joseph's; John Eakins, MPP for Victoria/Haliburton; Bill Scott, MP for the riding; Lyle McKnight, warden of Haliburton County; and Murray Fearrey, reeve of Dysart et al.

Cross Hospital." It is signed by the board of trustees of St. Joseph's Hospital.

Haliburton Red Cross branch chairman Barb Dawson thanked the board for the plaque, emphasizing the contribution that has been made by the whole community over the years to the local hospital.

"We've come a long way in the 48 years since 1936" when the first Red Cross Hospital opened in Haliburton, she said, adding that the local branch is "grateful for the merger" of the hospital with the Peterborough facility.

Also taking part in the ceremony was Ontario Red Cross archivist James Westhead, who presented a framed brief history of the Haliburton facility to the gathering. Text of the document is as follows:

"After helping to establish the first Red Cross

'We've come a long way in the 48 years since 1936'

During the formal portion of the proceedings following Doiron's introduction, Sister Veronica O'Rielly brought greetings from the Sisters of St. Joseph, who now own the local hospitals, to the staff and boards of the local facilities, and to citizens of the area. O'Rielly noted that it is "with diffidence and genuine pleasure" that the Sisters "join our tradition with yours." She congratulated the men and women who have assumed responsibility for health care in the community, saying "I am proud to be associated with you."

Board of trustees chairman Carol Pulver emphasized the importance of "recognizing all the work and effort that went into making the hospital what it was" before the St. Joseph's board assumed control.

Climax of the ceremony at Haliburton Hospital was the unveiling of a bronze plaque to be displayed in the entrance lobby. It expresses "appreciation, in recognition of the efforts, interest and support of the Ontario Division of the Canadian Red Cross Society, the Haliburton branch of the Canadian Red Cross Society, and the citizens of Haliburton and region for establishing and maintaining the Haliburton Red Outpost Hospital in Ontario at Wilberforce in 1922, it was only a matter of time, when Mr. and Mrs. A.G. Schofield moved to Haliburton in 1929, that a Red Cross Outpost Hospital would be opened in the village. The Schofields' determination was supported by the citizens, their council, the doctors in the area, the newly organized Red Cross Branch and the Ontario Division of the Canadian Red Cross Society. It took the combined efforts of some six years to make the hospital a reality. At the opening on June 23, 1936 were W.R. Curry, president and the members of the executive, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred G. Schofield, Doctor and Mrs. Louis H. Carroll, Doctor and Mrs. Speck, and Miss Gladys Reed. The hospital was officially opened by the wife of Wm. Newman, M.P.P. for the area. A lawyer, Leslie M. Frost (later to become Premier of Ontario) spoke at the ceremony and the first month's rent for the building was paid personally by Mrs.

"The financial, the personal interest and the overall support for this hospital has been highly effective. Representative of this is the successful financial campaign of 1969-1970 which raised in participation of the Governor General's Horseguard band from Ottawa.

The afternoon grand stand show will feature Ray St. Germain, a country and western singing artist noted for his versatile talent.

Another new event added to the fair programme this year is a chainsaw tree felling and bucking contest in which competitors try to carve a chair out of a large diameter log and fell a 20 foot tree trunk accurately onto a spike placed in a spot they have chosen. The contest is open to everyone, Scott said, although he noted that some experience with a chainsaw is important for safety reasons.

Also featured on Saturday for the first time will be a pioneer crafts and antiques display.

reason for claiming that the Chamber made a mistake when it hired its present manager may stem from the fact that she doesn't have a driver's license, which makes it difficult for her to get around the county.

Steam traction engines, a saw-mill and a shingle mill also will be in operation around the grounds to remind spectators of earlier days.

Other events scheduled for Saturday include a horseshoe pitching contest, horse judging, a heavy horse drawing contest, and a dance later in the evening. Sunday's activities begin at 11 a.m. with a pony show. Mutt and goat shows begin at noon.

A car demolition derby will be held once again this year, and it is slated to begin at 2 p.m.

Once the noise and smoke of the derby dies down, an amateur contest will be held, with the first competitors taking the stage at about 3 p.m.

The light horse class drawing competition will get underway at 4 p.m. followed by a 4 x 4 sled pull at 5 p.m. to wind up the weekend's activities.

Admission to this year's fair is $3 for adults, $1 for public school children, and pre schoolers are admitted free of charge. The cost of parking a car on the grounds will be $1.50.

John Eakins, MPP for Victoria Haliburton, John Turner, speaker of the provincial legislature, and Bob Mitchell, parliamentary assistant to health minister Keith Norton unveiled a plaque last Wednesday honouring supporters of the Haliburton Hospital.

Editorials

Verbal skirmishes are beginning to break out over the future of the Haliburton Highlands Chamber of Commerce. There have always been pockets of resistance to the Chamber, notably in the eastern portion of the county, but the forces of discontent may be about to band together. The first major salvo was fired by Lutterworth reeve Ron Gambell last week when he sought and won a resolution from his council advocating an end to a grant from the county. But before the conflict is allowed to escalate into a full scale war of words, all parties ought to regroup and consider the consequences of a protracted fight. For whichever side wins, the county as a whole is sure to lose.

Arguments over the role and effectiveness of the local Chamber of Commerce are nothing new. They have been going on for years. And so far, the only measurable result has been confusion, frustration and disheartenment for Chamber directors and the organization's paid staff. Perhaps the time has come to pin down a new agreement among county councillors, the Chamber board, and the businesses whose membership dues help keep the organization alive. Before that can be done, however, all parties must agree on certain facts.

Firstly, there must be consensus that some sort of county-wide organization is needed to promote Haliburton County as a vacation destination and as a desirable place to purchase or construct a cottage. There should be no disagreement on that point.

Secondly, a formula for funding such an organization must be worked out. While the Chamber has been assisted by local tax dollars in the past, the amount of that assistance, and the way funds have been spent, are continuing subjects of controversy. The time has come either to commit substantial (and effective) sums of public money to promote the Highlands, or to let individual lodges and resorts do the job for themselves, assigning local taxes for other purposes.

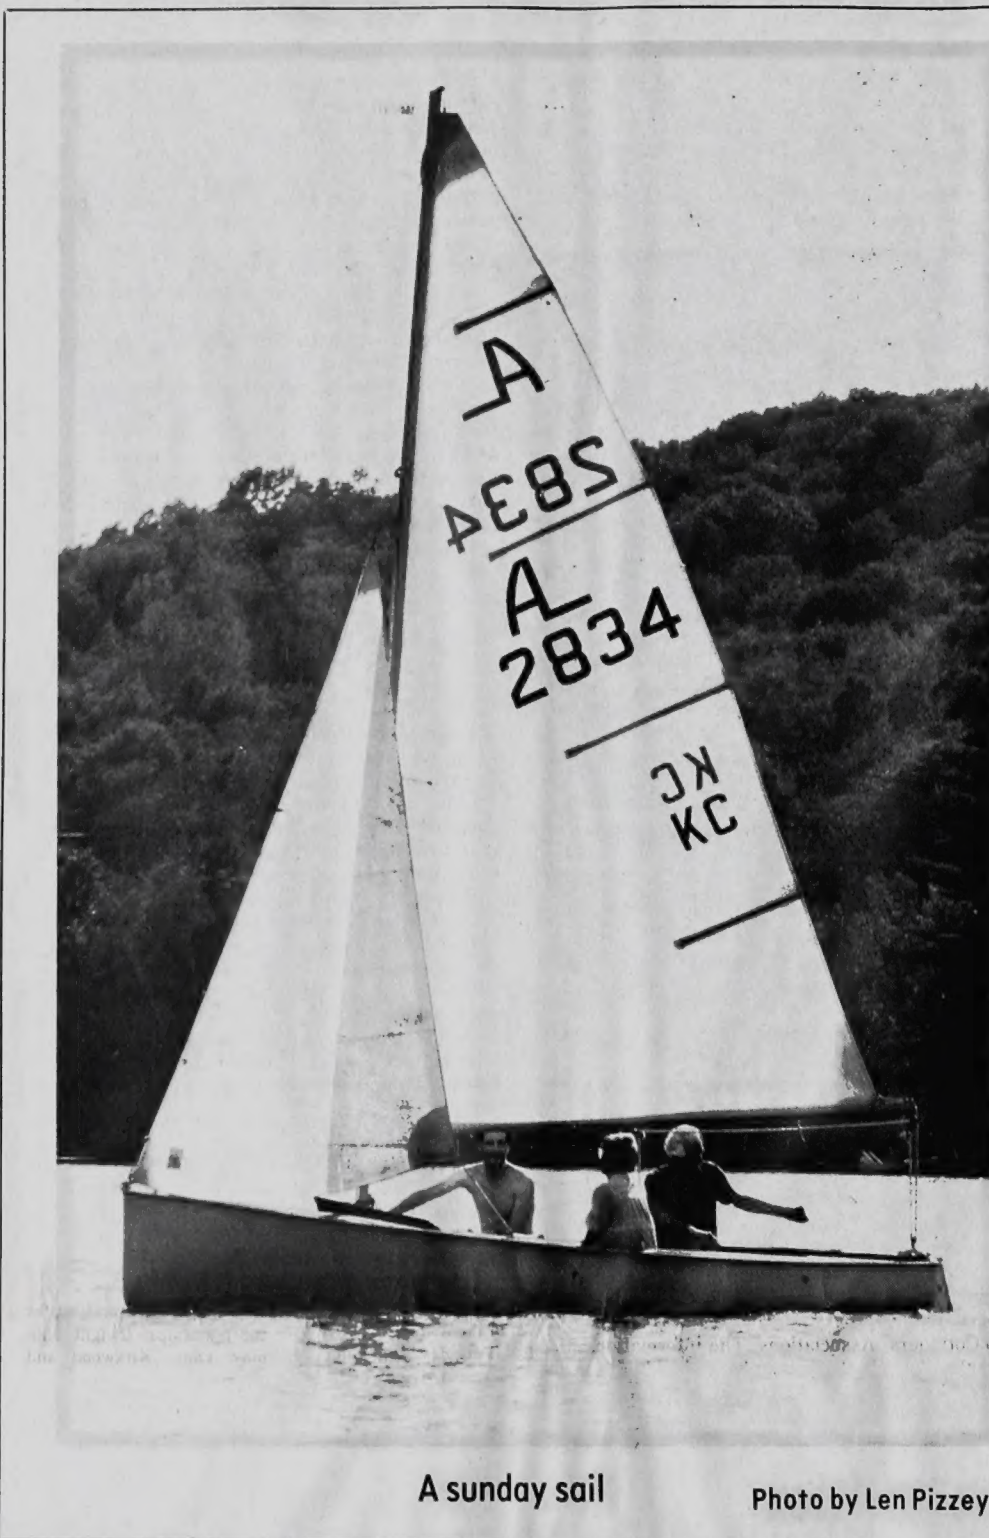

Thirdly, county council must decide whether it wants to assume responsibility for publicizing the area and enhancing its profile in an increasingly competitive tourism marketplace. If council is not willing to assume that task, or oversee a public body which will, it must be very careful about withdrawing support for the Chamber of Commerce.

Fourthly, local business people must decide whether there is a need for a Chamber of Commerce to represent their interests if the Chamber is no longer responsible for tourism promotion. If the Chamber is not the most effective instrument for tourism promotion, its secondary role of speaking for area businesses might be better assumed by merchant associations in Haliburton, Minden and other communities.

Fifthly, county council and local citizens must take a careful look at the Chamber's role as sponsor of the employment outreach centre in Haliburton. There is no question that the centre is a valuable asset to the community. Under federal rules, the Chamber is the only local body suitable to assume the sponsorship role. If county council sides with Lutterworth council's stand and cuts off funding for the Chamber, it must bear the consequences, which will almost certainly include the loss of the outreach centre and even bleaker employment prospects for local people.

Since Lutterworth reeve Ron Gambell appears to have assumed the role of general in leading a campaign against the Chamber, he has a responsibility to say what he will do if his forces win the battle. Will the boundary information centre become the locus of promotion and planning under municipal or county council scrutiny? Will he take responsibility for finding and hiring a marketing expert since he has been quick to criticize the Chamber's choice of manager?

Local ratepayers will be looking for answers when the matter comes before county council in September.

Letters to the Editor

Artist appreciated feature story

To The Editor:

A note of appreciation for the very fine article about my work. Elizabeth Church certainly managed to cram a remarkable amount into one space and the photo is great - eery to see my eyes' pupils glinting from beneath the mask.

It seems a wonderful way to let people what exciting and fun things are going on at the Haliburton School of Fine Arts.

Thank you again for publishing an article which I will be proud to include in my portfolio.

Yours sincerely,
Rae Anderson
Toronto, Ont.

To The Editor:

For years I've noted that it is not the Echo's policy to respond to letters to the editor. You do, on occasion, to clarify a point; or bring your readers up to date.

I trust, this is one of those rare times; to not only inform the writer, but many others of your readers who travel Highway 503 eastbound out of Kinmount.

About three - five miles eastbound, out of Kinmount, heading towards Gooderham, there is a giant pine tree on the south side of the highway. For several years the kids, and family have noted a "strange" sight on the tree: Shoes. Hundreds of shoes and in ever growing numbers, nailed to the tree. All kinds, colours and shapes. In the evening your car headlights pick the tree up easily - in the day time the pine tree is a strange blaze of colour. The kids ask why? And who started it? - because it looks like others have added to the strange "monument".

This past Friday on the way up I had time to slow and pull up to view the "shoe tree". From its base up 10 - 15 feet the outer surface is covered with running shoes, street shoes, ladies' and men's shoes, kiddies' shoes in every size and colour - even 40 - 50 feet up the tree they are nailed up among the branches. Why?

I'm not the only one who has pulled over because the shoulder of Highway 503 has a well worn pull-off, to view the tree or to add to its contents. Maybe you could enlighten the writer - and other 503 travellers.

Question

By CATHERINE DENHOLM

Should tax money go to private schools?

The ministry of education has set up a study of the financial structure of private schools in this province to see if they should receive public funding.

It is difficult to figure out the reasoning. The prestigious private schools have been asking for government money. These are the schools which have the best accommodation, the best academic and sports equipment in the whole county. Excellent staff teach classes of twenty or less students while our elementary and secondary public schools have a class size of thirty or more which has to increase with financial cutbacks.

The private schools are where fees are high and gladly paid by parents who can easily afford that kind of education for their children. The children spend their growing up years in a preferred situation where there is money for all advantages.

When one thinks about the Labour Day holiday weekend coming one also has to think about the annual Kinmount Fair which is all set for this coming Saturday and Sunday, September 1 and 2. Billed each year as "The Fair with the Forward Look", you can always count on the Kinmount Fair Board and the citizens of Kinmount to go all out to bring you two days of fun and entertainment. This year will be no exception with Ray St. Germain heading the grandstand show on Saturday and on Sunday the car demolition derby will be the feature attraction. The programme, which is included in an advertisement to be found elsewhere in this issue, proves the fact that the fair will something for everyone and is advertised as the show where you get your money's worth. We have mentioned this before but it should be noted again that the Kinmount Fair is one of the best small town fairs in Ontario. If you have never had the opportunity to attend this attraction make sure that you make this year the first. I know you won't be disappointed.

The following item that was handed to me last week for publication in my column could come under the heading Participation! Future Olympians? Jennifer Temple and her sister, Andrea, ages 11 and 8, daughters of Nancy and David Temple, cottagers in our area, possibly inspired by the success of our Canadian swimmers at the Olympics, successfully completed a non-stop swim across Lake Kashagawigamog and back at a point south of Camp Gay Venture, a distance of approximately two miles. The young ladies are also very proficient at water skiing. Jennifer plays soccer in Markham and her team is going to Washington D.C. for a match soon. Andrea is participating in synchronized swimming at her home in Markham, Ontario.

Secondary school students are reminded that registration is now in progress at the Haliburton Highlands Secondary School and will continue until this coming Friday, August 31 during the hours of 9:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. On Friday registration will take place from 9:00 a.m. to 12 noon only. New students and adults interested in upgrading courses should register at this time. School will commence on Tuesday, September 4.

The Haliburton Minor Hockey Association held their general meeting for election of officers on Monday evening at the Haliburton arena.

As you all know there is always good news and there is always bad news. During the summer we have heard a few stories about people who had the misfortune to lose their glasses, wallets and so on, but in most cases they were all lucky enough to have found them. But this doesn't happen in every case. The bad news is the fact that if an article is left somewhere and it is picked up by a dishonest person then you can practically kiss it goodbye. Most of the time in the case of a lost wallet, it's not always the money that's the important item, it's those important papers that are sometimes hard to replace, with your driver's licence, insurance cards, credit cards and so on. Shortly after supper one evening I happened to be walking through the Head Lake Park when I spotted a young boy from one of the local camps looking through the grass along the shoreline for a lost article. He told me that he had lost his wallet and I was quick in telling him that chances of him finding said wallet would be one in a hundred. It would all depend on just who picked it up.

Just recently the members of the Rotary Club of Haliburton and their wives paid their annual visit to Camp Illahee on Drag Lake near Haliburton. Everyone who attended seemed to really enjoy themselves and were really surprised to see that the youngsters have such a wonderful outlook on life. Even with their many problems, they live in harmony and enjoy life to the fullest.

Stevan and Simon Springer of Chase, B.C. are visiting their grandparents, Grover and Velma, and enjoying what Haliburton has to offer as well as a trip to Ottawa to see its many attractions.

We are sorry to report that Maurice Clement and Murray Linkert are at present both patients in out of town hospitals. We join with their many friends in wishing both of these men a speedy recovery.

We wish to take this opportunity in welcoming Mary Mead and her two children to the community of Haliburton. The Mead family recently purchased the Frank McIntyre home.

Training will begin again at the Hospitality Training Centre in Haliburton on Wednesday, September 19. The program will include the training of waiters, waitresses, bartenders, housekeepers and kitchen helpers. If you wish to be considered for this program, you may pick up an application at the Haliburton Manpower office.

If the Ontario Hydro are serious about keeping posters and such off their poles, then why don't they see to it that the offenders who go around tacking anything to the poles are brought to justice? For awhile we noticed that said Hydro poles were being kept clean of these signs and cards but we see that they are being used once again. If it's against the law to tack anything to a hydro pole then why isn't this law being enforced?

A WET DAY IN KINMOUNT, ONT.

Pic of the Past

This coming Saturday and Sunday mark the dates for this year's annual Kinmount Fair and what an appropriate time it is to publish this Kinmount photo. Our thanks go out to Peter Valentine of R.R. 1, Norland, who was cleaning out the archives in his mother's house in Norland when he found this picture showing four men on a raft in the middle of the main street on a wet day in Kinmount, Ontario around 1912. Flooding conditions at that time were very bad, causing a great deal of damage. Note the man standing beside his car on the left hand side of the photo.

From the Chamber

With Labour Day just around the corner, the end of another summer season is in sight. Our travel counsellors who have served us so capably throughout the summer will shortly be heading back to school. It is only through the services of the travel counsellors supplied by Central Ontario Travel Association that we were able to keep the office open on extended hours through July and August. After Labour Day weekend we will revert to our usual six days a week. The travel counsellors at the Chamber office have welcomed 2354 visiting parties since June 24. The Haliburton Information Centre has done a land office business as well, they have welcome 3615. Many thanks to the girls who have assisted us over the summer months. Susie Wingate, Dawn Elliot and Kim Burke. Also a special thank you to Ev Perrin who does such a great job of keeping the Caboose on track.

Cottagers

Jerry Strickland keeps us informed of what is happening on the cottage scene. I'm sure most of you are familiar with the "Ontario Cottager" magazine. The most recent issue contained an article regarding the "Cottagers self help program" that I would like to share with you.

The cottagers self help program grew out of the cottagers' concern about water quality in 1971. Today more than a decade later this program has proven to be one of our most reliable barometers of the level of water quality in recreation areas.

The Ministry of the Environment regional and district offices in cottage country co-ordinate this program, but it is absolutely dependant on the co-operation of volunteers who take on the responsibility of regularly sampling lake water and measuring its transparency. Many of the volunteers are members of the Federation of Ontario Cottagers' Associations. The information and samples the volunteers supply are invaluable tools used in testing to identify and document trends in our lakes. In return cottagers get a better picture of the long term future of their lakes. What the Ministry has found is that the lakes we are enjoying are in good shape and, despite increased development and increased recreational use, water quality has not deteriorated significantly in the last decade.

Spider Silk

One of the literary images that has stayed with me from public school is an illustration of Gulliver (from Gulliver's Travels) tethered to the ground by a mesh of fine rope anchored by an army of the miniature Lilliputians. That's how I feel at 6:45 every week day morning. But what really keeps the image fresh are those summertime encounters with the almost invisible silken chords which snare when passing through doorways, or on walks in the woods, and which you can't cast off, struggle as you may.

These silken chords are put there by spiders, of course, and they're really a marvelous creation. Spider silk is an albuminoid protein believed to be quite similar to the insect silk which we use commercially. However, it is secreted in special abdominal glands which distinguish spiders from their close Arachnid relatives.

A spider scarcely moves without leaving its silken trail or drag line, behind. It uses silk in constructing its retreat such as a web or chamber, or for its burrow lining or trap door. With silk it makes egg sacs and nurseries for its young, mating structures such as sperm webs, courtship and mating bowers, mating chambers, and even, in one group of species, a bridal veil. With silk, it builds traps and devices for snaring its prey, as well as bands for binding and holding its victims.

It is the spider's drag line which you and I often encounter and can't bat away. Made up of at least two closely adherent threads, it may be spun out very rapidly if the spider wishes to drop in a hurry from its web or off a precipice to escape danger. Fine, but how can a spider, which has no wings to fly, manage to hang a drag line across an open doorway? It's called ballooning. This is done mostly by the spiderlings recently emerged from their egg sac, but may be practised by adults. Each climbs to some point where it may be caught up in a breeze, then, wafted in the air current, it spins a drag line. Sometimes spiders travel great distances on air currents, having been found to land in numbers on ships 200 miles at sea, and at altitudes of 10,000 feet.

Nowadays, scientists are trying to find the chemical keys to the strength of spider silk. As fine as one millionth of an inch in diameter, spider silk is more than twice as strong per weight as steel alloys, yet so elastic as to stretch 30% before breaking. When wetted by rain, the silk becomes rubbery, contracting by half, doubling in volume and becoming super flexible. These remarkable properties have led one scientist to theorize that the key is a lengthy molecule which alternates from end to end between crystalline and rubber-glass structures.

Gulliver is lucky he only had to deal with the Lilliputians.

Queen's Park Report

My Leader David Peterson, and my colleague Jim Breithaupt, Q.C., M.P.P. (Kitchener), recently issued a communique calling on the Ontario Ministry of Consumer and Commercial Relations and the Government of Ontario to immediately take steps to compensate the preferred shareholders of Crown Trust.

Two years of regulatory failure and negligent supervision resulted in the government's unprecedented takeover of three trust companies, including Crown Trust. In their haste and incompetence, they foolishly forgot or intentionally ignored hundreds of absolutely innocent investors, holders of the most conservative securities, Crown Trust preferred shares. Until January 7, 1983, these shares were considered the soundest and most conservative of investments. At one time, the estate of the late Premier, John Robarts, held these shares, as did the mother-in-law of the Registrar of Loan and Trust Corporations.

Since February 1983 we have been demanding that the Minister of Consumer and Commercial Relations take action to right the wrongs this government has perpetrated on the Crown Trust preferred shareholders. Repeatedly, the Minister has made promises of assistance, all of which have been broken.

The cost to the Ministry of the Trust Company fiasco will amount to at least $15 million for the period ending March 31, 1985. It is almost entirely unlikely that any of this money will ever be recouped. The government must face up to this fact. The Tory Government must not be allowed to make the Crown Trust preferred shareholders the scapegoats in this sorry scenario of regulatory failure. They must compensate this group fully and promptly.

We support entirely C. Wallis King's request to Premier Davis that the Province of Ontario fund the legal expenses of the Committee of Crown Trust Preferred Shareholders. The government has cut off every other avenue of redress available to the preferred shareholders. The province, we can be sure, will draw out the length of these legal proceedings, as it has already successfully resisted efforts to have the preferred shareholders' dilemma resolved quickly in the courts. Not only is it practically impossible for this group to amass the necessary funds to continue legal proceedings, it is grossly unfair that they should be required to do so, given that their loss is due solely and entirely to this government's neglect. It is only a small crumb of justice to give, when the Crown Trust preferred shareholders are entitled to so much more.

When they leave university they have, in most cases, the financial backing of parents to continue their lives in a similar fashion. They often become the top-level corporate executives.

If there is a need for more money to keep up their exceptionally high standards in those private schools would it not seem fairer if their fees were raised and their parents paid more instead of you and I having our taxes raised or having or public school grants reduced?

The clerk reported that Blocks A and B, Plan 328 were vested in the names of the property owners on the island, therefore a tennis court could be constructed on the property as proposed by N. Smith as long as the use complies with the by-law.

Council had no objections to the application providing that the two storey structure did not interfere or obstruct the neighbouring property owners' view.

Council accepted the quotation of Genavieve Cooper to perform the caretaking duties at the Minden museum as well as the Cultural Centre for $1,680.

The following persons were appointed as co-chairpersons to organize a LACAC consisting of five persons for the townships: Dwight Thomas, Laura Kirkwood and Bob MacBrien.

Minutes of the Planning Advisory Committee meeting held August 8 and 15 were accepted.

The reeve and clerk were authorized to endorse an agreement with Hugh Taylor with respect to property in part of Lot 12, Concession A in the Township of Anson.

Council had no objections to Dora McCracken cleaning up and brushing out the original allowance for road between Lots 10 and 11, Concession 7 in the Township of Minden providing that no large trees be removed. This approval does not in any way interfere with the public use of the allowance and is subject to the road superintendent's approval.

Council endorsed the accounts procedure that: monies generated as profit from the use of (a) a tandem truck (b) grader (c) backhoe be credited to a vehicle reserve account, and the auditor be advised of this proposed procedure inviting his comments.

The Boundary Information Centre accounts were approved for payment in the amount of $1,019.89.

The clerk distributed a copy of a six-month financial report according to the Municipal Act.

The Parks department was authorized to proceed with the construction of the ski trails even though it is an unbudgeted item. Council agreed that up to $1,000 could be expended to purchase the necessary equipment, etc. for the project.

Also the municipal solicitor is to be contacted to negotiate with the property owner adjacent to Lot 6, Concession A in Minden for permission to use the property north of the original allowance for road for cross country ski trails.

Council's representatives on the BIA were requested to arrange an on-site inspection of the old Welch property on the main street with members of the BIA to discuss their ideas for development of the property.

The roads committee requested that a contract be prepared immediately for B. Trumbull to sign regarding brushing along roads.

Dixie Lee team now unbeaten in five games

By JIM MILNE

The Dixie Lee soccer team extended their unbeaten streak to five games with a 1-0 win over Bracebridge Juniors last Sunday in Bracebridge. The first half was scoreless although Dixie Lee had the edge territorially.

For the first 10 minutes of the second half while the Haliburton team was playing against a steady wind, the game was being played in the Dixie Lee half of the field. It is significant, however, that the Juniors had no corner kicks in the entire game, not even in the 10 minutes they were pressuring Dixie Lee.

Terry Crowe scored the only goal of the game for Dixie Lee.

Late in the second half the pace of the game slowed down as the players grew tired. Dixie Lee have a number of older players but they also had three spare players. Brian Holden, acting as the player manager, organized the substitutions so that Dixie Lee could keep pace with their younger opponents who had only one substitute. In their unbeaten streak Dixie Lee have always had a complete team with sufficient substitutes while playing, at times, against undermanned opponents.

The Dixie Lee team will practise in Minden on Thursday at 7:00 p.m. The last game of the season will be against the first place team, Orillia Inter, scheduled for September 16. It may be moved ahead however.

The team is planning a small tournament on September 22 and 23 involving the high school seniors and an overage team from Toronto. This will be a fund raising activity for the Terry Fox Fund to complement the runners who probably will be involved in cancer research fund raising also that weekend.

Lumber, Kinsmen to meet in final

Haliburton Lumber and the Haliburton Kinsmen were scheduled to square off Tuesday night in the first game of a best of three final series to decide the championship of the Haliburton men's recreational fastball league. The Kinsmen earned a berth in the final with two straight semi-final victories over Curry Motors, while Haliburton Lumber needed three games to eliminate Beachli Construction in the semi-final round.

The Kinsmen went into game two of the semi-final last Tuesday with the advantage after defeating Curry Motors 2-1 in the opener.

Barry Shaw got the Kinsmen off to a fast start, nojeing a two out double and scoring on John Wilson's follow up two base hit.

Curry Motors could not reply until the bottom of the third. Wade Stamp hung in at the plate to earn a walk, then stole a base. Kevin Sisson followed up with a single that brought Stamp across and evened the game at one run apiece.

Good pitching and tight fielding continued the stand-off, but Curry Motors got themselves in trouble in the top of the fifth with the Kinsmen at the plate. Lyle Sawyer led off with a single, then stole a base when Vince Duchene popped one up to motormen catcher Barry Boice. Hugh Nichol followed up with a double that brought Sawyer across. The run that won the series came from the next batter, Brian Mulholland, who cracked a single that scored Nichol to make it 3-1. With two out and Mulholland still at first, the motormen opted to walk Barry Shaw rather than risk his hitting power, and the strategy paid off. Shaw and Mulholland were left stranded by the third out, and the game was still within the reach of Curry Motors.

Kinsmen sent the motormen down in three straight in the bottom of the fifth, but suffered the same fate in the top of the sixth.

In the bottom half, Wade

Stamp led off with a home run that narrowed the Kinsmen's lead to one run, and with one out, Ron Perrin doubled to put the tying run only one hit away from the plate. But the Kinsmen stayed sharp, forcing Earl Bull out on a foul shot to the shortstop and throwing Neilson Sisson out a first to end the motormen's threat.

Neither side could add to the score in the seventh inning, giving the Kinsmen a

THE CLASSIFIEDS HAVE SOMETHING FOR EVERYONE

Three game final continues Thursday

3-2 victory and a berth in the final.

Haliburton Lumber in three Haliburton Lumber needed three games to defeat Beachli Construction and reach the finals. In game one of the series the Beachli squad played to a 3-1 win, and looked like strong contenders for the championship round. But in game two last Tuesday, Haliburton Lumber rallied to tie the series with a three run advantage.

The lumbermen led off with a run when Bernie Nicholls doubled and then made it safely home.

They added two more in the top of the third inning, including what proved to be the game winner. Tran Larue notched a one-out single to begin the scoring push. Dave Nicholls followed up with a double to put Larue at third. Bernie Nicholls then singled to bring Larue across. Dwight Sisson hit into the game winning run with a sacrifice shot that scored Dave Nicholls and made it 3-0 in favour of the lumbermen.

Sacrifice shot to pitcher wins series for Lumbermen

In the top of the fifth, with the Beachli squad still struggling to put a point on the board, Tran Larue and Dave Nicholls once again scored, Larue on a Nicholls double, and Nicholls on a triple by his brother Bernie.

Beachli Construction's only hope came in the bottom of the sixth when Bob Johnston singled, and with one out, Mark Schell notched a ground rule double. Roy Hewitt came up with a two out double that scored Johnston and Schell to put the builders on the board and raise the possibility of a series ending win.

But they failed to produce any more runs in the bottom of the seventh, leaving Haliburton Lumber with a 5-2 advantage and the series tied at one game for each side.

The deciding match was played on Thursday night, and it proved to be a tough one, with a single run making the difference.

Beachli Construction led off the game with a run when Roy Hewitt walked, stole a base, and scored on an RBI single from Darrell Stamp.

Haliburton Lumber answered with a single marker in the bottom of the first inning as Dave Nicholls singled, Bernie Nicholls notched a ground rule double and Dwight Sisson sacrificed to bring Dave Nicholls home.

The score remained tied through four more innings, although both sides recorded hits that failed to produce runs.

In the top of the sixth, however, Roy Hewitt led off with a double and scored on a Mark Schell single to move the builders in front by one.

Haliburton Lumber came back quickly in the bottom half of the inning as Bernie Nicholls slammed a homer to tie the score. Dwight Sisson then hung in for a free trip to first on balls, and Bernie Upton sacrificed to put Sisson in scoring position. Rob Dennys followed up with a sacrifice shot to Mark Schell on the Beachli mound that enabled Sisson to cross the plate with the game winning run.

Beachli had a chance to reply in the top of the seventh, but they went down three straight, bringing their season to an end.

The championship series got underway Tuesday, with game two scheduled for Thursday night at the Haliburton ball park.

County warden Lyle McKnight takes a ceremonial drive during the official opening of the new 18 hole golf course at PineStone Inn on Monday. A large number of invited guests took part in the festivities.

Minor hockey chooses slate

Haliburton Minor Hockey has appointed a slate of officers for the 1984-85 season, ending months of effort and ending concerns about finding enough interested people.

Last year's president, Bob MacNaull, has agreed to carry on the office for another year. Derrell Stamp has joined the executive as vice president, as has Roy Hewitt.

Barry Robertson, who was treasurer of the Northernways Huskies last season, will serve as treasurer for minor hockey this season.

Bob Pollard has been appointed to the position of secretary.

Len Salvatori and Brian Black will act as contact people for the OMHA, while Gary Brohman will co-ordinate house league activities.

Jim Johnston and Greg Jones are the equipment managers for the 1984-85 season.

New regulations implemented this year require all OMHA coaches to have Level 1 certification, and the local organization will take steps to see that prospective coaches have a chance to attend the appropriate clinics.

Haliburton OMHA teams will play a home and home series against Fenelon Falls, Minden, Bobcaygeon, Beaverton, Little Britain, Ops, Oakwood, Woodville, Cannington and Sunderland. The schedule begins October 26, with registration set for September 15 and 22 from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. at the Dysart arena.

Huskies name new coach

Haliburton's Junior C hockey club, the Northernways Huskies, will have a new coach this season. Team sponsors have selected Scott Hammond of Bracebridge to head the team.

Hammond, who is currently an instructor at the Haliburton Highlands Hospitality Training Centre, is a former Junior hockey player, and has two years of college hockey under his belt.

Hammond will be in charge of the Huskies this Thursday when the team holds its first open practice at the Dysart arena. Prospective players will take to the ice at 8:30 p.m.

Minden Seniors lead final

It was another close one last Wednesday night in Haliburton, but the Minden Dixie Lee Seniors held on to defeat the Haliburton Juniors 16-14 and take a two games to one lead in the Haliburton County Ladies' Softball final. It was also a hitters' night as both teams were unstoppable at the plate.

The Dixie Lee bats of Nelda Cully and Laurie Brown Wood continue to be hot during the playoffs. Wood made it to base five of six times and scored three runs, while Cully made it to base four of five times and also scored three runs. Other top bats were Helen Burk, who made it to base on all five tries, and scored two runs, and Wendy Gough, who was on base four out of five tries, and scored three runs.

Nelda Cully and Ann Hewson combined for the win, while Marg Smith took the loss for the Juniors.

The third game was played in Minden Monday night. It started out as a pitchers' duel, but in the bottom of the fifth inning the Dixie Lee squad scored five runs to take a 7-1 lead.

The sixth inning was the biggest of the series for the Juniors as they scored eight runs to take a 9-7 lead. The Juniors scored five more in the seventh to take a commanding 14-7 lead. The Seniors in their last at bat scored four runs, but it wasn't enough as the Juniors won their first game of the series 14-11. Trish Slavik was on base four of four times for the Seniors and she scored three runs. Barbara Winn was also on base four of four tries.

Marg Smith was the winning pitcher for the Juniors. Nelda Cully started for the Seniors, but was relieved by Ann Hewson.

The fourth game will be played Wednesday night in Haliburton.

Miskwabi youngsters fish for prizes

Submitted

The first annual junior fishing championship for children ages 16 and under was held on Sunday by the Miskwabi Area Cottagers' Association, the emphasis being on fun and education.

The event, attended by a good number of area children and their parents or guardians, used the Lake Miskwabi boat landing for registration and weigh-in ceremonies. This area, made available with thanks to the Municipality of Dysart, provided excellent facilities and a central point for the event.

Junior fishing champion was Anthony Cook, aged 7, with his catch of a large-mouth bass and two small-mouth bass. Anthony was presented with a tackle box and contents donated by Kennedy Surplus.

Prize for the biggest smallmouth bass went to Lisa Cook, aged 12, and the prize for the biggest catch of coarse fish went to Edward Kraus of Long Lake for his catch of perch.

All children participating in the event were provided with a "goodie" bag which contained a certificate of participation, an edition of the Angler and Hunter magazine donated by the Ontario Federation of Anglers and Hunters (O.F.A.H.) and educational material.

Northern Lights

The autumn leaves...drift by my window...

Well, here it is the last week in August, and all the pessimists are out. "Before you know it, we'll be standing knee-deep in snow," and, "Another long, cold winter is on the way." Geez, you guys, aren't you forgetting something? Like autumn.

It wasn't three weeks ago, when everyone was grousing about the heat. And the poor city folks were arriving wilted and weary, just hoping to get a cool night's sleep. We're always complaining about the weather. It's a wonder somebody up there doesn't get annoyed with us. Here we are, near summer's end. The grass is still green. The gardens are bountiful, the lakes warm and refreshing, and the nights, blessedly cool.

Three or four months ago, we were crying about the black flies, and the rain. Never mind that we managed to get some of our garden in early. And weren't the trilliums and violets, and even the fields of bright yellow dandelions splendid after the long, white winter?

And March! Even I forgot how dirty and slushy and damp city winters are. By March, the snow laden evergreen boughs looked strained to the breaking point. Cabin fever abounded. Shoveling, wood fires, boots and mittens palled. The snow piles melted so slowly.

But autumn. How can anyone knock autumn? It's by far the most glorious time of the year. When the air snaps fresh and crisp. When nature takes out its palette and makes an easel of the forests. When each window frames a painting artists have tried to match unsuccessfully for centuries. But there is no brush, or even a powerful camera that can capture the wonder. No matter where you go in the Highlands, the hills, the rocks, and the streams are surrounded with blazing colours. I love to walk or drive through it all. Dorset, with its viewing tower. Algonquin, with its trails and woodsy smells. West Guilford to Eagle Lake. How amazed I am that I can call this place my home. I hate to go inside from dawn to dusk. Fortunately, wood needs to be stacked. Hazelnuts, cranberries, sunflowers and winter squash are ready to pick. Potatoes, onions and carrots must be dug up and readied for storage, or buried deeply in the ground to sweeten over winter. And alas, eventually the garden must be plowed under and covered with the flaming leaves turned brown and dropping from the trees.

Darn it! Autumn is just too short. Before you know it, we'll be knee deep in snow.

The following is an article that appeared in the May 15, 1984 edition of the Peterborough Examiner. We are reprinting it with their permission.

The Peterborough Family Counselling Service has been awarded a $22,000 grant from the Ontario Ministry of Community and Social Services to counsel seniors and their families on problems related to aging, said executive director Wayne Casey.

A part-time social worker has been hired to start developing the program in June. Sharon Chapman-Sheehan, who has a masters degree in social work and several years counselling and administrative experience, will likely spend a month familiarizing herself with services already being provided in the community.

In 1980 a District Health Council task force reported that the counties of Peterborough, Victoria, Haliburton and Northumberland had a higher percentage of seniors than the provincial average and "emotional advice" has been identified as a need by the ministry, Peterborough Civic Hospital, Home Care and the Senior Citizens' Information Bureau, Casey said.

The project will be funded for one year but could be Well readers, the Haliburton County Fair is over. I guess, judging from the large crowds, it was a success. They took us in our Hyland Crest bus to join in the parade, along with a lunch, served by our worthy volunteers, which we ate right in the bus. They were afraid to let us children out, in case we kicked up a fuss.

There was lots of company over the weekend, some coming in, some going out, which was fine. Some had relatives staying with them to dine.

We have Jessie Walter back with us again, after a lengthy stay in hospital. We would just like to say, "Welcome back, Jessie, we hope you will be feeling better with each passing day."

In the chapel service Sunday night were the Pettit family, dad, mother and two daughters. They came all the way from Bancroft. In the service they lent a hand. The way they played and sang for us was simply grand.

Our ladies working in the craft room are busy dames. They have just taken another quilt out of the quilting frames.

Linda showed us movies Monday night, which was really fine - "Walk a While in my Shoes" and "The Unbroken Line."

Sympathy to the Moore family, from all here, we would like to say. Bill's sister Ethel just recently passed away.

I'm sorry to report that nurse Lynda Williams was in hospital for repairs. She broke her arm while falling down the stairs.

Jack Stewart is gone for a lengthy holiday. He says he just doesn't know how long he'll be away.

Rev. Westhaver, of Minden United Church, took the service in the chapel this lovely August day, which was really fine. He had been hospitalized for quite some time. We would like to say "Thank you" also to Fred Ballard, who comes with music to play.

Tuesday noon Doris said, "If you folks pull up your socks we will take you in our bus to Kirkfield Liftlocks." Really, we had nothing else to do, so thought it would be nice to watch the boats go through. It was a really nice day and we had a nice trip, but we were getting rather dry, as we had nothing on our hip.

Mrs. Stutt's daughter, Ruth, and granddaughter, Patricia, called on her today. Patricia teaches school in Brampton, by the way.

Tuesday night our musicians, Smith and Watson came to play. They played a steady pace, all the way from the Devil's Dreams to Amazing Grace. Gordon Ruttle, who knows a few tricks, kept time to the music on his maple sticks.

The Baptist ladies from Kilmount came on Thursday afternoon. They brought and served a lunch. Then Doris played the music. We all joined in and sang some lively tunes.

Our activities directors, Doris and Linda, both have birthdays on Saturday and won't be here. We with them a happy birthday with lots of birthday cheer, for we all love them and think they are just grand, always more than willing to give a helping hand, always planning something to keep us entertained. It is our wish from all here at Hyland Crest, with many birthdays they will be truly blessed. Edna Cowan has a birthday the same day too. Congratulations and best wishes, we will say to you.

We had no sing song Friday afternoon, so we played a game down in the gym. You had to be right on your toes if you wanted to win.

Friday night our piano player, Ray Usher came and brought his good wife, too. He can really handle the keys, I'm telling you. Next Friday night will be the last night they will be here to play. We will surely miss them when they go away.

Roy Brohm earns appreciation for his county library service

One of Haliburton County's most respected citizens was honoured last Thursday for the contribution he has made to the formation and development of the county library system. Roy Brohm served on the library board for 18 years, from its formation in 1965 until his retirement from the position last year, and in all that time, including 12 years as chairman of the organization, he never missed a meeting.

To pay homage to that remarkable record of community service, library staff, board members and local politicians gathered to present Roy Brohm with a plaque, a pen and pencil set, and a cake saying simply, 'Thanks Roy'.

In accepting the accolades, the former county warden, Dysart et al reeve, and most recently, deputy reeve, was quick to praise the efforts of others.

"I feel rather humble," Brohm said, "because when I look back, there were dozens of people who contributed to the county library system."

"We've had very aggressive committees and yeoman service from most of the members."

Personally, I was strongly behind the library," he said, noting that as a school boy in the early decades of the century, he had very little chance for a broad education, and most of his learning came from the small collection of books in the local library of the time. When the opportunity came to create a county library system that would serve "thousands of children", Brohm said he was "100 percent behind the idea."

"I appreciate all you've done for me," the former board chairman told those who were on hand for the presentation at the Dysart library, adding that if he could be of any help to the library system in the future "just call on me."

In conjunction with the presentation to Roy Brohm, Mary Packard of the Dysart library branch prepared the following brief history:

The Haliburton County Public Library came into existence officially on January 1, 1965 with a seven-man board appointed by county council. The new county library was authorized to provide service to the 10 municipalities in the county with a total population of 8,400.

Formation of the county system culminated a year of effort on the part of the Minden and Dysart Library Boards. Since 1890 these libraries had been functioning on meagre funds. By 1964 each association was operating on an annual budget rarely in excess of $500. Both had non-functioning boards and only continued in operation through the efforts of librarians, Irene Moore of Minden, Irene Hill and Bert Allan of Dysart.

The Minden association, helped by interested citizens, has managed to acquire a modest building of their own. The Dysart Library, in Haliburton village, was housed in half of what used to be the municipal jail. In the spring of 1966 all this changed as a new interest in library service coupled with Canada's Centennial, encouraged the municipality to build a new library.

Under the guidance of W.A. Roedde, director of the provincial library service, the Dysart board authorized its chairman, Noel McNeill to visit the various municipal councils and to promote the cause of a county library. Many miles later (not to mention letters to the editor, "guest" editorials, speeches to service clubs) the county library came into legal existence.

With no experience or precedent to follow, the library board had no idea what could not or should not be done. However, a contract was negotiated with the Haliburton County and District High School Board to share the services of a librarian and since no qualified librarian applied for the position, Noel McNeill was invited to apply. The high school library was recognized as a branch library for the purpose of receiving book deposits. With the co-operation of J. Douglas Hodgson, a room was set aside in the high school and became the county library headquarters.

During 1965 branch libraries were opened in Monmouth, Glamorgan and sub-stations in Dorset and Harcourt. In 1966 Snowdon Township opened a branch.

Realizing that they would be unable to open new branches with a collection of uncatalogued books, the board negotiated for contract service with the Victoria County library co-operative. By this contract Victoria agreed to rotate every three months, a deposit of 400 books through the existing and new branches and to send a box of 20 books each month to every public school room in the county. Part of the benefit of this contract had been the professional advice and assistance of Janet Nowakowski and her staff in Lindsay.

In 1970 branches were opened in Stanhope and Highland Grove and in 1976 Lutterworth Township opened a branch. All 10 municipalities now have a library.

Over the years the county levy for the library system has changed - in 1965, 25 cents per capita was allowed, slightly over $2,000; in 1983 almost $5 per capita was levied. Book circulation in 1966 was 25,000 for six branches and two sub-stations. In 1983 with 10 branches the circulation was 79,000.

Coinciding with the conference, at the Rails' End Gallery there will be a showing of Jean A. Chalmers Bicentennial Collection. This collection presents significant work by 14 Ontario craftsmen. New works in this exhibition were commissioned for the Ontario Crafts Council's permanent collection by Jean A. Chalmers to celebrate Ontario's bicentennial year.

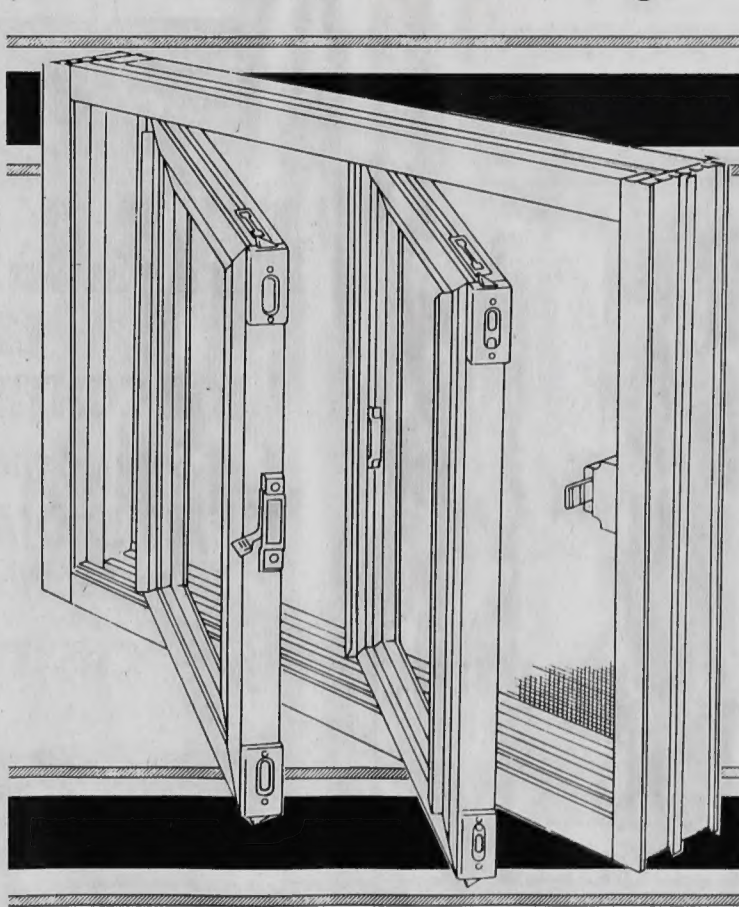

Mrs. Chalmers, who will celebrate her 85th birthday in August, 1984, also made possible the purchase of the Canadian work featured in the 1974 World Crafts Conference "In Praise of Hands". The exhibit opens Friday, September 21.

The Haliburton Guild of Fine Arts, and Sir Sandford Fleming College is anxious to have some local input into this conference. We have so much talent here, it would be nice to have as many as possible at these meetings. Please contact Chris Lynd at the Gallery for more details.

Dysart et reeve Murray Fearrey knows his way around a golf club, as he demonstrated on Monday while taking a ceremonial drive to help open PineStone's 18 hole golf course. The reeve kept his eye on the ball and cracked it well down the fairway.

PineStone Inn's golf course is now 18 holes. The course was officially opened on Monday at ceremonies attended by a host of former NHL stars, as well as inn owners, shareholders, politicians and other invited guests.

The 6,132 yard, par 72 course was designed by Jack Davison, assistant general manager of the Chicago Black Hawks and resident pro at PineStone.

Davison is one of five principal owners of PineStone. Others involved in the resort include its president and general manager Wren Blair, who is also director of player personnel for the L.A. Kings; Jim Gregory, of the office of NHL president John Zeigler, Larry Needler, a Toronto businessman; and Bob Smith, a Toronto businessman who is also the owner of Haliburton Hockey Haven Camp.

On hand for the opening ceremonies were Canadian professional golfer George Knudson, who gave a demonstration of his skills for an appreciative audience; MPP Jim Pollock representing Ontario tourism minister Reuben Baetz, MP Bill Scott, MPP John Eakins, county warden Lyle McKnight, and Dysart et al reeve Murray Fearrey. The five politicians had the honour of driving the first balls down the fairway, and also took part in a ribbon cutting ceremony.

Following a luncheon in the clubhouse, invited guests, including a substantial number of former NHL'ers, headed off to play a round on the course, which was in immaculate condition through the efforts of greenskeeper Jim Elstone and his crew.

Longest hole on the heavily wooded, gently rolling PineStone course is a par 5 of 485 yards. Shortest hole is a par 3 of 154 yards.

Total cost of developing the new course has exceeded $1 million. Total investment in the PineStone resort complex is now more than $6.5 million.

Canadian golf professional George Knudson put on an impressive demonstration of how the game ought to be played on Monday during the opening ceremonies for the PineStone Inn's 18 hole course. Knudson also led the first foursome off the number one tee following the official ribbon cutting to declare the course open.

excess of $157,000 for the new hospital building fund; the continuous interest and leadership provided by the Haliburton Red Cross Branch; the financial and technical assistance available from the various ministries of the Government of Ontario; and the many service clubs and other groups in the area who have played such a large part in providing equipment and other amenities over the years.

"Throughout the 48 years of service to the Outpost Hospital, the doctors, nursing staff and administrative staff have provided highly professional and competent service. Representative of the doctors' services are Doctor Louis H. Carroll, who played an important part in the planning for the hospital and served as Resident in the hospital from 1936 to 1967; Doctor Speck, who also participated in the planning and served on the executive of the Haliburton Red Cross Branch; and Doctor Harry Good, who joined the hospital and the Red Cross in 1954 and continues his service to this day. Representative of the nursing staff are Gladys Reed, who was Charge Nurse at the opening in 1936 (she was also a Public Health Nurse and served the hospital and community well in both responsibilities); Mrs. Velma Smith, who has served the hospital for 27 years; and Mrs. Marlene Bennett, who has served the hospital for 24 years (she has been Charge Nurse and Administrator for the last 14 years).

"This hospital has been active in other health related fields and has provided health care visits to schools, practical experience to out-of-town nurses, and organized public health and home nursing courses. A highlight of these activities is the 1944 health clinic organized by the Rotary Club and held in the hospital, at which time 30 school children had their tonsils removed and 40 others had eye tests and examinations. From 1936 to 1984, this hospital and its staff have treated 16,847 patients as admissions, 97,329 patients as emergency and/or out-patients, and delivered 3,356 babies.

"The investment in time, money and support given to the hospital by the citizens of Haliburton and area over the past 48 years has been highly successful. This record of service is without a doubt to the highest standard of the Red Cross tradition of "caring for humanity in time of need." All who have participated in this fine achievement can be justly proud. Haliburton Hospital stands as a monument to all who served."

On July 17 about 40 people enjoyed a field day, complete with obstacle courses and others. July 25 was cooking day: small hands made many yummy treats. Circus day was a resounding success: huge crowds, balloons, popcorn, many painted faces, and performances highlighted by young acrobats, bareback riders, a daring lion tamer and his ferocious lions, and a large convoy of clowns. In the middle of all that rain we celebrated a bright, sunny, hot day with our annual pot-luck picnic August 8. Dozens of watermelon plants will mark the spot next spring. And on August 16 many young puppeteers made their puppets, and regaled us all with their performances.

September is almost upon us, gardens overflowing, woodpiles growing, and school looms large. For some of us, the house will be nearly empty after Labour Day. For those with smaller children, the question sometimes arises, "How can I help them learn?" Of course, you have already been, since birth, a valuable resource to your child in her learning. With you as reference she had tucked away vast amounts of information, from the most basic "I am a lovable, worthwhile person", to the more abstract "birds fly". Not only facts, but also the more difficult to express feelings and attitudes that give our lives richness and depth, has she acquired with your guidance: ways of living happily with people, and in tune with nature, a delight in new experiences, and infinitely more, according to the uniqueness of your own family. And so many skills acquired, especially speech. This amazing feat has been accomplished with only her family as a resource, and in a very short time.

How have you accomplished all this? Not by attending Teacher's College, or calling in the experts. Through tuning in to your baby from the moment of birth, you have learned to respond to her cues, supporting her as she goes forward into her world. You have played with her, at her level, sung with her, talked with her, read to her, included her extended "if successful and the money is available."

One of the key services of the new program will be to counsel seniors and their families about nursing homes, alternative lifestyles and resources available.

In order to help families make the appropriate decision, Casey said case conferences could be set up involving doctors, home care professionals and the Victorian Order of Nurses.

Family Counselling Services will be working with other groups already in the community. The role of the agency may simply be to help provide families with information on existing programs.

"Our role might be to help them walk through the system and might involve an interview with the whole family."

Individual counselling for problems such as loneliness and depression which sometimes affect the elderly will also be available.

Advice may be given relatives of the aging parent to help them adjust to a parent moving in with them and make them aware of the resources available.

Casey said seminars and workshops will be developed to educate the public on aging. There could be small group discussions for the "sandwich generation", middle-aged adults still raising their own families and coping with an aging parent, or groups for seniors who have lost spouses.

Death and dying and remarriage among the elderly will be topics of discussion in the program.

Casey said by working cooperatively with groups already providing services for seniors in the Peterborough area, the new counselling program "has the potential to offer a worthwhile service."

Note: Sharon Chapman-Sheehan will be the guest speaker at Haliburton Home Support Services fourth annual meeting on Friday, September 14 at the Haliburton Legion. Phone 457-2941 before September 6 for reservations. Everyone is welcome.

Sherborne et al council minutes

A special meeting of Sherborne, Livingstone, McClintock, Lawrence and Nightingale Township council was held Monday, July 16 to discuss matters relating to the Committee of Adjustment.

Council was informed that a member of the committee had resigned from his appointed duties. The resignation from the Committee of Adjustment submitted by Arthur F. Haynes and dated July 12, 1984 was accepted.

Dave McDonald, Chief Building Official/Municipal Law Enforcement Officer for the municipality had the clerk inform council that he would be willing to fill this vacancy until his successor is appointed.

Council appointed Dave McDonald to fill the vacancy for the term of the council that appointed him or until such time as his successor is appointed.

A regular meeting of council was held July 23. Dave McDonald was in attendance to report to council. Members were given a report as the number of building permits issued from January 1 to June 30, 1984. Total permits issued 35 with a value of $290,600.

Next on the agenda was a letter from Mr. and Mrs. Trousseau of Troutspaw Lake outlining their concerns on people camping on Crown land (public beach access) which has been posted "no camping". The clerk was instructed to correspond to Mr. and Mrs. Trousseau indicating that council is aware of the problems in that area and support their concerns; but that they should direct their letters to the Ministry of Natural Resources, Bracebridge for some control on what is taking place on said Crown land. This is not under the jurisdiction of the local council.

Council concurred with a resolution passed by the Town of Leamington at its regular meeting held on May 28, 1984 requesting the Province of Ontario to petition the federal government to take action to ensure that savings generated by energy conservation will remain in the hands of the consumer and make public these actions.

An application for road allowance closure was reviewed by council from Carl F. Clarke on behalf of a group of individuals located in Part Lots 25 and 26, Con. 4, in the Township of McClintock. Council recommended that lands lying and being in part of Lots 25 and 26, Concession 4, Township of McClintock designated as 66 foot road allowance on Registered Plan No. 389 and Instrument No. 371 and Part the Original Road Allowance between Lots 25 and 26, Concession 4 be stopped up, closed and conveyed.

A Mr. Press and a Mr. Millar of McCombe Point Road cottage development area requested council to consider stopping, closing and conveying a section of Road Allowance leading to water adjacent to their cottage property. This allowance was created by By-law of the Corporation in the year 1898. The clerk was directed to correspond with these individuals stating that council would not be in favour of such closure being proposed as there would appear to be no necessity to do so at this time. Council then dealt with the subject of designating a name for the road that runs parallel to Nordic Inn. By-law No. 903, stating that said section of road will hereinafter be known as "Nordic Inn Road", was passed.

Under Waste Management council was informed of the estimate received to rehabilitate the Municipal Sludge Disposal Site located in Part Lot 15, Con. 2, McClintock Township. This tender from J.D. MacKay Construction was the only one submitted. Council was informed by the clerk that letters had been sent to local haulers indicating to them that this pit would temporarily be closed while rehabilitation was being undertaken. Shut down was effective midnight, July 27.

General accounts were paid in the amount of $797.00.

Next item of consideration was the supply of furnace oil and diesel to municipal buildings. The clerk was directed to inform the roads department that tenders are to be invited for a period of one year. Tenders are to be called as soon as possible.

The clerk informed council that the Dorset Snowmobile Club planned to have a Monte Carlo night at the Dorset Community Centre on August 11. A Mrs. Lewis, responsible for entertainment for this club, asked the clerk to receive approval from council for the erection of a sign to advertise such event. Council gave conditional approval to same.

To date no response has come forth from the schools in the request to have a logo drawn for the identification of this municipality to be placed on letterhead/equipment, doors, etc. The clerk has been directed to advertise for such a logo in the local paper. A prize of $50 will be awarded to the successful person submitting a logo accepted by council.

Under new business the clerk was directed to correspond with the Ministry of Municipal Affairs and Housing (Field Services Branch) for their comment on Part 30 on RD Plan 118.

Armour Henderson, ratepayer in attendance, was given the floor by the Reeve to report his feelings as to current status of Bear Lake (Private) bailey bridge. Henderson informed council of some confrontations that had occurred over the past weeks, etc., involving the police on occasion.

Miskwabi cottagers meet

Submitted

The tenth annual general meeting of the Miskwabi Area Cottagers' Association Inc. was held Sunday, August 5 at the airstrip clearing, Lake Miskwabi.

Chairman Jerry Strickland welcomed a large crowd of cottagers, area residents and visitors, introduced the association directors and advised of the more significant issues affecting the area, including news from Bell Canada who advise that they expect to start construction late this summer. Their current schedule would provide installation dates during the fall of 1985. Basic rural service cost is $5.50 a month with a $37.25 service charge applicable. The dates being forecast at this time are dependent on adequate capital being available for unserved territory projects in 1985.

Strickland acknowledged the display of literature that had been contributed by the Ministry of Natural Resources, the Ontario Provincial Police, the Federation of Ontario Cottagers' Associations Inc., the Red Cross, and particularly the Haliburton County Chamber of Commerce.

Strickland then introduced Gary Chapman of the Ontario Provincial Police who spoke on the Neighbourhood Watch Program. It was the consensus of the group that the Miskwabi Area Cottagers' Association Inc. should adopt the program.

The chairman next introduced John Parish, councillor, Ward 2, who covered a wide range of topics of interest to area residents including road work, development, zoning, the 66' shoreline allowance, and answered many questions. Issues raised by the group will be developed with Councillor Parish and the municipal office for resolution.

Strickland then gave a summary of the draft report on the Trent-Severn Reservoir Lakes and Waterway System and advised that it had been reviewed by Parks Canada, and the Ministry of Natural Resources, Minden District, and was expected to be presented to Haliburton County Council in September.

Strickland said consideration was being given to the first ever Miskwabi area junior fishery derby for children aged 16 and under.

Haliburton Highlights

by Creighton Feir

The Labour Day holiday weekend is coming up and that means that the summer vacation season is drawing to a close. Many people went home last week to take in the CNE while others will be waiting and going home on Monday afternoon. Some people had to leave early to get their children ready for school which will open next Tuesday. We hope that you all had an enjoyable summer and that you will keep coming back in the fall and winter to view the beautiful scenery and to take in the winter sports that are coming up. Many of our visitors stay until Thanksgiving and then return home and head down to the sunny south for the winter months.

If you are looking for something different to do on Labour Day why not head on over to the Haliburton Highlands Museum and take in the demonstrations (weather permitting) of Settlers' Skills which will take place from 2:00 to 4:00 p.m. If you are present at this event you will have the opportunity to see broad axe, cross cut saw and other lumbering skills. Spinning will also be on the agenda, plus caning and wicker work and shingle making. Admission is free and it's on this Monday, September 3.

For those of you who just love to go to a garage or yard sale you will have plenty of opportunities this weekend as these sales are advertised with one or two on in practically every part of Haliburton County. They are always quite popular and you won't want to miss one.

A good crowd was on hand at the Haliburton Curling Club on Friday night last to attend a free dance and to meet the Liberal candidate in this riding, Bruce Glass.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Elstone and daughter Nancy from Ottawa were visitors in the village a few days last week. They have been vacationing at their cottage in Bancroft.

The hockey season can't be too far away. The Haliburton Northernways Huskies hockey club have scheduled an open practice for all midget age players and over this Thursday evening at the Haliburton arena. The practice will get underway at 8:30 p.m. and all players are asked to bring along their own sticks and equipment. The local businessmen who help to sponsor the team held a meeting in the United Church basement in Haliburton last Thursday night and they were given an outline of the plans for the team for the upcoming season.

Vandals were on the loose in Haliburton over the weekend and signs were damaged from CHACE Place right out to Bayshore Acres. We understand that the CHACE Place Sign was destroyed, several of Bill Scott's election signs were pulled out of the ground and Ministry of Transportation and Communications signs were also found damaged and laying on the ground.

The following are a few Haliburton personals. Mr. and Mrs. Dick Holland were recent visitors to the village...Mr. Bill Harding of Toronto was a visitor to Haliburton last Thursday evening...Mr. Rick Bain and Mr. Bob Normile were recent business visitors to Bancroft...Rev. John James and his wife Barbara were in Toronto last week. John was on study leave...Mr. and Mrs. Bill Vanderhorst and family were recent visitors to Peterborough and Kitchener...Mr. and Mrs. Bill Deacon of Oakville were recent visitors to Haliburton...Ron Carnochan of Oshawa spent some of his holidays in the village...Rev. and Mrs. Don Nicholson were recent visitors here.

We are sorry to report that Charles McBurney collapsed at a local restaurant in Haliburton on Monday and had to be rushed to the Haliburton Hospital. His many friends wish him a speedy recovery.

The new 18 hold golf course at PineStone Inn and Country Club was officially opened on Monday and work still continues on the addition to the present kitchen facilities and an extra conference room is also being added on.

Many of the local baseball fans have been telling me that they have tickets for the big series when the front running Detroit Tigers move into Exhibition Stadium next week to take on the second place Toronto Blue Jays.

One day last week Betty Salvatori handed me a brochure outlining the entertainment that has been arranged for the Concert Series 84-85 which is presented by the Arts in Haliburton and supported by the Ontario Arts Council. They are telling everyone to book their seats now for three of the best shows from the '84 Toronto International Festival. The three concerts, which will feature Repercussion on Monday, November 26, 1984, Eritage, Monday, April 1, 1985, and Primadonna on Tuesday, April 23, 1985, will all be held at the Haliburton Highlands Secondary School.

Rotary Beach has been a hive of activity these past few weeks as the children from the area have been taking their swimming lessons.

A Canadian Red Cross Summer Safety Tip: for poor swimmers and hesitant boaters, help is at the other end of a phone call to the Red Cross Water Safety Service. Be prepared. Yell to us.

Thanks to the Haliburton Horticultural Society the flowers at Head Lake Park and all around the village for that matter are really lovely this year. The shrubs in the planters at Rotary Beach are also starting to look nice. Thanks again to the men and women who hold this society together.

West Guilford and the Minden Seniors softball teams will be meeting head on at the Haliburton ball park in the fairgrounds tonight, Wednesday, August 29, in a Haliburton County Ladies' Softball League playoff game. The teams are coming down to the wire and the game should prove to be a good one.

Still on the subject of softball, the Haliburton County Ladies' Softball Association are planning their annual dance to be held at the Monmouth Community Centre at Wilberforce on Saturday evening, September 8 with dancing from 9:00 p.m. to 1:00 a.m. Music for the evening will be supplied by that ever popular group "Six Pack" and the admission is only $5 per person.

Some local organizations and businesses are planning on having booths at the Kinmount Fair this coming Labour Day weekend. You can bet that some of the local boys will have their horses all set to enter the Horse Drawing Contest. Why not make plans now to attend this year's annual Kinmount Fall Fair. It's a good one.

Some people seem to get very upset when they see delivery trucks double parking on the main street of Haliburton, especially when the traffic is heavy during the summer months. In most of the business places it's practically impossible to load and unload from the rear as they just don't have the space. I know it's annoying but for the present time it looks as if we are going to have to put up with the inconvenience.

Many people in the village of Haliburton are well aware of the fact that we have plenty of activities going on for the adults and the senior citizens but we have to ask ourselves the question on just what we are doing for our young people. It seems to me that there is plenty of talk in this regard but very little action. We certainly don't have all the answers. I wonder if we should strive to get a youth centre going in the community for young people, let's say from 12 years of age and up. Here they could gather some good wholesome recreation and good clean fun.

The Haliburton Lions Club are holding a yard sale and car wash this coming Saturday, September 1 at Bennett Motors, which is four miles west of Haliburton, on Highway 121. It's on from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. and the members tell me that they will wash your car for $2.

The cement litter containers which were placed in various parts of the business area of the village have turned out to be a great success. They look nice, people are using them and the container inside the cement is very easy to dispose of, according to municipal employees.

Manager of outreach centre wants services better known

The new manager of Haliburton's employment outreach centre hopes to raise the facility's profile in the community and make more local people aware of the services it offers.

"I want to lift the awareness of the centre generally within the whole community," says Dennis Casey, who was appointed recently to head the facility, located in a small office on Haliburton's main street.

Since taking over the job, Casey has implemented a number of changes which he hopes will help ensure continued operation of the centre, as well as provide improved service for local employers and people looking for work. Among these are relocating the manager's office to the main floor, where it is more accessible to the front office, and an improved reporting system for recording client loads and enquiry rates.

Casey says he intends to take "a more aggressive approach to the centre." In particular, he says, "I want to spend more time and more effort on counselling and employment services."

Casey says many people have perceived the outreach centre "as a place to fill out unemployment insurance forms." In fact, however, it is "a mini Canada employment centre" offering a number of services to bring employers and prospective employees together. Working in conjunction with the Peterborough employment office, the local outreach centre can provide counselling services, aptitude testing, and even a computer based job search program which can point people to some of more than 800 occupations, based on their skills, interests and abilities.

Casey says he hopes to increase the number of job orders and referrals handled by the outreach centre over the next few months.

"The only way we're going to do that is to raise our credibility in the community, and that's just going to be by efficient service," he says.

To help employers gain the most benefit from the outreach centre, Casey has implemented a policy of asking businesses how they want job orders handled. In the past, he says, employers looking for a person with specific skills may have been disappointed if the people listed in the centre's files failed to apply for the job. Now, employers will be asked if they want to contact people on the centre's list directly. Casey hopes this practice will reduce the risk of employer dissatisfaction, although he says he expects that most people with jobs to offer will want the centre to make the initial calls.

Casey says local employers "who know what the centre is here for, use it very well," but that those who don't understand it are not making the best use of its services. He hopes that will change as the role of the centre becomes better known.

The local outreach centre is "a very valuable asset to the community" and has "more than proved its worth," Casey believes.

As for his own role, Casey says simply: "if I can help someone find a job, or an employer find an employee, I'm satisfied."

A Pinch of Sand

Ontario home grown tomatoes have got to be the best in the world, lusciously red, sweet and BIG. In the winter, in Florida, one advisedly buys nothing but the hydroponic for the shelves hold the same hard tasteless squarish tomato they ship to Canada in the winter. So do make use of the beautiful fruit available now. I repeat Ontario tomatoes have got to be the best in the world.

Sweet Basil Slices

Select large ripe tomatoes, do not peel but slice rather thickly. Sprinkle with salt and pepper, liberally with sweet basil, place on a greased cookie sheet and broil 15 - 20 minutes. If you wish also sprinkle with parmesan.

Parmesan Slices

Select very large tomatoes, wash and peel and slice thickly. Dip in salad dressing of your choice, then in a mixture of fine bread crumbs and parmesan cheese, place on a cookie sheet, broil 5 - 10 minutes each side.

Tomato Stacks

Very large tomatoes peeled and thickly sliced, salt and pepper each slice, place very thin slice of sweet bermuda onion on each slice, then a slice of cheese, preferably round, another slice of tomato, sprinkle of parmesan and thyme. Place on a cookie sheet, securing with tooth picks if necessary. Bake on middle rack 20 - 25 minutes until cheese is melted.

aptitude testing, among other services. Casey says he hopes to enhance the centre's profile in the community.

Drag Lake Sunset

I sit out on the deck to see
The day draw to its close,
The sky a glorious panoply
Of crimson, gold and rose.

The flaming sky reflected in
The silver lake below.
Too soon will twilight dusk begin
The magic colours go.

And then the fingers of the night
Will touch the distant hill
And with the slowly fading light
The world is hushed and still.

So soft against the eastern skies
A swift increasing glow.

The summer moon begins to rise
And light the earth below.

How deep and peaceful is the night
And pure contentment lies
To see the beauty, such delight
That spreads before my eyes.

How lofty then my thoughts become.
I ponder life and birth.
It's then the first mosquitoes hum
And crash me back to earth.

And so I beat a swift retreat.
Mine is no leather hide.
Although the evening still is sweet
I'll watch it from inside.

The Economy

Over the last eighteen years of Liberal government our economy has been badly mismanaged to the point where we have:

- ✦ Record high interest rates, over 12%
- ✦ Record levels of unemployment, over 1.4 million out of work
- ✦ A record low exchange rate for our dollar, below 75¢ in July
- ✦ $20 Billion interest on the public debt

The main goal of a PROGRESSIVE CONSERVATIVE government will be to put unemployed Canadians back to work. Our second commitment is to genuine economic growth. This can be achieved by innovative policies which will:

- ✦ Provide assistance to people willing to start up their own legitimate business
- ✦ Curtail the abusive exercise of authority by Revenue Canada which has contributed to the over 37,000 business and consumer bankruptcies last year alone.
- ✦ Lower interest rates
- ✦ Provide new training and retraining programs to help the jobless of all ages find employment.

"We can do better together."

Last Thursday's card party winners were the following: lone hands (on a cut) Pearl Cowan. Others were Isabel Robertson and Johann Beatie.

A thought for the day: everyday should be distinguished by at least one act of love.

The ATC races will be held on the track at the Minden fair grounds on Saturday, September 1. There will be trophies, prize money and points for the Highland Cup Championship. The races begin at 1 p.m.

June, Hank and Vikki Stuart and Eva Harrison of Fort Erie, Mary-Lou, Carl, Jennifer and Jeffrey Packard of Haliburton and Dave, Chris and myself visited with my sister and brother-in-law, Lois and Raymond Chiasson and family in Burnt River last Sunday. We enjoyed lunch and a family get together.

Congratulations to Ken and Jayne Ann Walker who were married last Saturday.

Charlie Palmer is out of the Minden Hospital and recovering at his home in Lindsay. I hope you're feeling better Charlie.

Sincere sympathy to the family and friends of Ethel Harrison.

Are you young folks ready for school? It won't be long now.

The nights have been a little cool. There have been some reports of frost in the area.

Larry McKnight's place of business was broken into over the weekend.

There seems to be a lot of flu and other viruses going around the last few weeks. I hope you are all, feeling better soon.

If you have any news for me to include in my column please call 286-3607. Thank you.

Norland Natter

By KELLY GRAHAM
I hope everyone has a great Labour Day before the reopening of school; a joyful reopening for parents maybe but a somewhat unhappy one for us kids.

Buryel Kipp, of Norland, recently returned from a 19 day tour of Sweden, Norway, Denmark and Finland. Mrs. Kipp and her sister, Verna Green, of Thornhill, visited such cities as Oslo, Bergen, Helsinki, and Copenhagen. Although she enjoyed the entire trip, she preferred Norway because of the beautiful mountains. She says at one point during a bus ride on a steep mountain a fellow traveller was so frightened she lay down on the floor of the bus and refused to budge. She says the people were friendly and the weather was cool everywhere except for Finland where it was very hot. Staying with Mrs. Kipp now for a few days is her grandson, Michael Kipp of Aurora.

Congratulations to Margaret Ireland of Don Mills and David Weaver of Cobocok. Both were winners at recent draws held by The Norland Trading Company in Norland. Margaret won a paddle boat while David picked up a $20 gift certificate.

Here are the euchre scores for Tuesday, August 21: ladies' high, Evelyn Manly; second, Barbara Walker; lone hands, Barbara Walker; consolation, Margery Fountain; men's high, Ron Pierce; second, Mary Montgomery; lone hands, Freida Boyce; consolation, B. Taylor. These results are from the senior citizens games held every Tuesday evening at the Lions' Hall in Cobocok.

I was glad to hear that Verlie Young and Verna Crego are now home from hospital and I hope they'll be back to good health soon. I'm sorry though, to report that Ken Scott is in Haliburton Hospital. Father Brooks, who underwent surgery Monday, August 20, is also in hospital. Sue Ellen Crego suffered a broken arm in a teeter totter accident at the Public Park on Tuesday, August 21 and had to undergo surgery to repair three broken bones. Sue Ellen is now home. Adam and John Hill have been down with chicken pox, Mary Cowen and June Cooper are both in misery with neck/back/arm problems, and many other folks are complaining of various ailments this past week. It must be the weather. I hope you're all well very soon.

George Cowen is back to work following a bout with flu followed by a broken leg. Isabell and Bob Hill are feeling better following a bout of flu.

A few dates to remember: each Tuesday and Saturday from 1:00 p.m. to 4:00 p.m. you can shop for good used clothing at the Women's Institute Hall on Highway 503 just east of Highway 35 in Norland. That's where the Norland UCV are very busy serving you through the summer and up until Thanksgiving. More on that later. Then, the Kinmount and District Horticultural Society will be holding their annual houseplant/vegetable show at the Kinmount Community Centre on Thursday, September 13. Admission: adults $1, children 25 cents. See you there.

Don't forget Kinmount's big Fair days over Labour Day weekend. If you wish to view the parade, be in town early or you may find yourself, like other years, part way between Norland and Kinmount and not moving. We are a very busy town at that time.

A very happy, though belated, 80th birthday to Frances Gunn or Norland.

I'm told a car burned out at Forest Echo Lodge last week but some Hydro boys had it extinguished before the Norland Firefighters arrived on the scene.

Elizabeth Fryer, Helen and Alex Graham spent a day in Fenelon Falls last week.

John and Mary Pyke enjoyed a barbecue dinner at the home of Helen and Alex Graham, Tuesday, August 21.

Alex Graham's sister, who resides in Ballyclare, Northern Ireland, sent him a tape of his sister-in-law Auriel Campbell recently and I'm looking forward to hearing it. Titled "Auriel Sings", it features Country and Western Music which Auriel is helping make famous in Ireland these days. Along with the tape Alex also received some dulce.

Tracey and Gregg Howard, grandchildren of Hilda Chynoweth who have spent their summer with her, returned to their Orangeville home on Thursday, August 23.

You know, folks, I'd forgotten some of the things you go through with a little boy around the house after having my "little" boy - and girl leave home quite some years ago. But on Thursday last, some of it came back when Jason found three tiny field mice, all dead, but another alive - barely. The mice looked newborn and possibly the mother had gone the way of many mice so therefore the babies were destined to go too but Jason was having none of that. He inspected the one, put his baseball cap into a plastic toy pail and made a bed for the mouse, put in birdseed, and then announced it had a bite on its leg and that gramma should put a bandaid on it. I made the mistake of saying "maybe I should use a splint." The rest of the day was spent in explaining why I couldn't make a splint from a toothpick. By the way, said mouse has been moved out of our entranceway and is now residing in Jason's fort out back.

Results of St. James euchre held Tuesday, August 21: men's high, Frances Black, who also held most lone hands; ladies' low, Betty Lonsdale.

Wednesday, August 29, beginning at 7:30 p.m. the last fun bingo of the season will be held at Kinmount Legion Hall.

Now would be a good time to join our library. With the weather turning cooler in the nights it's kind of nice to curl up with a good book.

Lil Platt has been canvassing for donations to the CatScan. If everyone gave just a couple of dollars (which many of us waste in a week), just think, this wonderful machine could possibly mean the saving of your life some day or that of a loved one.

Visitors at the homes of Mary L. and John Pyke and Helen and Alex Graham on Friday, August 24 were June and Sellard Wilcox of Fort Mead, Florida.

Well folks, stay well and happy, read the Echo, give me a call at 488-2353 and remember: take care what you say, you don't have to explain what you don't say. Congratulations to Lila Shaw who was the lucky winner of $180 on the 57th number called at the Kinmount Legion Bingo, Friday evening, August 24.

It takes longer to do dishes with a small helper, but you know how important it is to her. How many two-year olds have been heard to plead, "but I need to help!" It's true. In your unique position as parent you have helped her become who she is now: why not use those skills, continue to follow her cues, and go forward in love on your adventure of learning together? Outside influences may become appropriate as she gets older, and you will know when the time is right, from your intimate knowledge of her based on years of daily interaction.

Dorset News

By PHYLLIS BRISCOE

Intended for last week

"Life is a one-way street. No matter how many detours you take, none of them leads back. Once you know and accept that, life becomes much simpler. Because then you know you must do the best you can with what you have and what you are and what you have become."

The annual Avery reunion picnic was held on Saturday, August 11, at the home of Ruth and John McLennan at Paint Lake. There were 45 family members in attendance from some coming from Niagara Falls, Ottawa, Toronto, Nova Scotia, Huntsville and the surrounding area. The oldest family member was Len Avery, 92. The youngest member was Jamie Yates, great grandson of Mrs. Elsie Burk of Huntsville. Jamie is just two months old and lives in Denver, Colorado, so wasn't present. The event also celebrated the 25th anniversary of the wedding of Eleanor Avery and Russel Burton. Eleanor is the daughter of Ellen and the late Orrie Avery.

Congratulations to Harry and Blanche Clayton who just became great grandparents once gain. Their granddaughter, Teresa, Mrs. Arthur Bainbridge, gave birth to a 7 lb. 5 oz. baby girl, Tasha Nicole, a sister for three year old Steven.

On Saturday, August 11 the Dorset Snowmobile Club put on a Monte Carlo night at the Dorset Community Centre. They had a packed house and had numerous games of chance. The evening started with a barbecue and finished off with an auction of articles donated by the local businesses, and then dancing to the music of disc jockey Robert McLaughlin. There was a beautifully decorated cake donated by Eileen Barry and since it was a gambling evening the decor was appropriately a hand holding a winning poker hand of cards. The cake was raffled and was a good money maker as many tickets were sold when it was raffled. The young people from the Katimavik group were of great assistance, helping with the various activities throughout the evening. The sponsors of the event would like to express their thanks and appreciation for all the help they received from numerous people who worked so hard to help make the evening a success, and thanks to the business people who donated articles sold at auction.

Who doesn't enjoy a day at the races? Thursday, September 20 is the date set for just such a day if there are enough firm commitments made in time to engage a bus for the trip. I think that everyone knows that it would not be feasible for 12 or 15 people to rent a bus for the trip as the cost would be prohibitive but if we can find 36-40 race fans the cost for an enjoyable trip to Woodbine would be within everyone's reach. Ralph Raven, 766-2605, is the convenor for the trip and you may call him for information. Although this is a Senior Citizens day the trip is not confined to seniors. Everyone is welcome and you get free entrance into the track, free seats, programs, race sheets and tickets for free coffee or soft drinks. Your only cost is bus fare and food. The fare cannot be estimated until there is sufficient numbers confirmed to make hiring a bus possible. Let Ralph know how many will be in your party. Planning one of these bus trips entails a great deal of work, and the convenor deserves all the cooperation possible.

"There's so much good in the worst of us; and so much bad in the best of us, that it hardly becomes any of us to talk about the rest of us."

Is summer over? To ask a question like that isn't the way to win friends and influence people by any stretch of the imagination. But the nights have been chilly and we snatch at every sunny day and try to hang onto it and hope for more of the same. It's more like September than August to be sure. We hate to admit it but the temperature of the lake water has dropped slightly; the cool nights will do it. They also reduce the growth in the gardens. Tomatoes won't ripen, corn and cucumbers won't mature, but the zucchini seems to produce like mad regardless of temperature. There is still lots of activity on the lake and in the village. The last Lions bingo will be held on Thursday, August 30 and the jackpot will have to go so it's your last change to win $100 at a cost of only a few dollars for an evening of fun.

There will be an Octoberfest held on October 5 and 6 in the skating rink where there will be a big tent set up. This is under the sponsorship of the Dorset snowmobile club.

Next Tuesday, September 4 is election day and everyone should exercise their privilege of being able to cast their vote for the party or person of their choice. If you don't vote and then are unhappy with the government leaders, then whose fault is it? The members running for re-election visited the Dorset area last week soliciting votes. Stan Darling held court at the Senior Citizens building where a good number turned out to listen to what he had in mind for the future and I understand Bill Scott of Haliburton County was visiting voters the same day. Exercise your franchise, it is a duty as well as a privilege.

Recent visitors with relatives in Dorset were Mrs. Phyllis McKee, her daughter Kim Tebbly and Kim's two little girls, Merrin and Leslie. Kim's husband, Steve, was in Toronto General hospital where he had undergone hip surgery. Steve will be recuperating at home for the next few weeks and we wish him a speedy and comfortable recovery.

There was an error in the column recently that should be corrected. The lobster dinner and beer tent and dance were strictly an effort of the Dorset Volunteer Fire Department of which we are justly proud, and all proceeds went to that organization. It was mistakenly reported that they had gone to the Community Centre building fund.

We send best wishes to Gwen Raven who is a patient in Huntsville Hospital. I hope to see you home soon Gwen and feeling fine again.

Phyllis McKee is off to England for a month to visit her sister-in-law.

Recent visitors at the home of Joyce and Leon McKee were Fred Brown, his wife Betty Ann and three daughters, Amanda, Jennifer and Trish, all of Fort Francis, Ontario. The Browns are friends of David's, David having worked for Fred while in the north country.

Late birthday wishes to Bas Weatherell who celebrated on August 26.

H.H. Nothing beats cleaning your vegetables at any time but especially during barbecue season, which will be with us a while longer, than an abrasive scrubbing pad. Try the green one you use on pots and pans. Fantastic for potatoes and carrots, etc.

Gooderham News

By MARY HADLEY

Stuart Hughes, who has been attending school in Innisfail, Alberta, is visiting his father, Doug Hughes, before resuming his education in September.

Some 46 members and visitors of the Glamorgan Senior Citizens' Club gathered at the Community Centre last Wednesday evening. After luncheon and a business session conducted by president Ivan Hunter, the group was entertained by Niela Lem who sang ballads and folk songs. She accompanied herself on the guitar. Len Smith on the piano, with Niela, Lem and Walter Baron playing on their guitars, led in a sing song. Bridge, euchre and darts concluded the evening.

Three tables of bridge were played last Tuesday evening in the school. Helen McMullen took first place while Fred Vanderland, with 20 fewer points, placed second. Bruce Armstrong, an excellent player, held poor hands all evening, and won the consolation prize.

Violet Billings returned to her home after an extended holiday in Clinton which included a camping trip. She was accompanied by her daughter and son-in-law, Ruth and Robert Madill who remained for a week.

The quilting club of the Pentecostal Church have resumed their activities after a summer break and are now busy on an attractive quilt. Last Thursday they celebrated the August birthdays of some of their group with a decorated cake.

Rev. David Watson, who was a student minister at the United Church about 15 years ago, was in the pulpit last Sunday while Maurice Bradley was on holidays. His old friends were glad to renew acquaintances. He is now preaching in Elmira.

Norma and Jack McQuillan of St. Catharines and their daughter, Lee are visiting Norma's mother, Claribel Sheehan.

Gooderham's annual festival, "Klondike Days", will be featured on Saturday, September 8. The recreation board have arranged interesting contests, such as pioneer costume, best dressed bike, flower and vegetable display and best beard. Several costumes added a pioneer authenticity last year and the flower and vegetable displays could compete with any of those shown at the local fairs.

At the time of Horseshoe Days six men shaved their beards to be ready to qualify for the best beard contest on Klondike Days. The results should provide keen competition as well as amusement.

A pancake breakfast will be served from 9 to 10 a.m., and a beef barbecue from 5 to 7 p.m. Those who partook of these meals last year will heartily recommend them. The day will end with a dance in the evening.

Baseball and tennis tournaments will be held in the afternoon. Laura Maxwell of Kaka-beka Falls with her son Arnold and his wife, visited her sister, Mrs. Mae Pickens, and her sister-in-law, Vivian Dovell, and other relatives recently.

Joe Madill of West Hill and his sister, Myrtle Pagnello of Scarborough spent last week visiting their sister, Pearl Cary and her husband, Albert. They also visited Theresa and Theo Peacock as well as other relatives while here.

West Guilford

By E. COOPER

Several changes are happening as people buy and sell and move away. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Howe are moving from West Guilford to Haliburton Village and Murray and Marguerite Scott are buying the Howe house on Grass Lake.

Don and Marge Sisson are moving into the stone house originally built by Jimmy Cooper on the corner across from the Texaco station.

Robert Griffin is in satisfactory condition following surgery for kidney transplant at Toronto General Hospital two weeks ago. Good wishes are extended for a complete recovery.

The salad and strawberry supper at St. Andrew's Church on Saturday was a huge success thanks largely to Mrs. Phrona Sisson and Mrs. Sylvia Sisson and the way in which they organized the efforts of all concerned. Thanks to all who attended and contributed time as well as food or helped financially with this splendid parish and community event.

Approximately 50 guests joined Grace and Rex Boice at the Recreation Centre at their 25th anniversary dinner. At least twice as many came to celebrate and congratulate the couple at the dance in the evening. Rex's granddaughter, Heather, was home from Calgary for the event and many friends and neighbours also came to enjoy the party and congratulate the Boices.

Kathleen Owens has spent a week's holiday in Barrie visiting relatives.

Brenda Barry and sons, Jeff and Craig have just returned from Duncan, B.C., where they visited Brenda's twin sister, Linda Halvas and her husband Ralph and family.

Trent Severn News

At 76.8% on August 20 the levels of the reservoir lakes averaged some 18% higher than in 1983. This is also some 10.8% higher than the 10 year average for the date as rains continue to produce considerable runoff. In 1980 the level averaged 81.5% on this date, but considerable difficulty occurred that autumn when rains were heavy as well.

If the same slow rate of decline continues in the week to August 27, the reservoir flow will need to be increased again from the moderate values over the past week.

On the Kawartha Lakes the surplus from the rain has been discharged and Otonabee flows again are near summer averages for the time of year. Waterway officials say they should not have to reduce to minimum flows the rest of this summer if present weather trends continue.

A dirty cooling system can make your engine run hot

When dirt, rust and sludge deposits clog the tiny passages in your heater core, you're in for a long, uncomfortable winter behind the wheel.

That's because these blockages prevent your cooling system from circulating hot coolant from the engine through your heater to warm the inside of your car.

But you really don't have to freeze this winter. Because now there's a method of cleaning out your car's entire cooling system, including the heater core. With WYNN'S XTEND Power-Flush and WYNN'S XTEND Cooling System products. A new approach to cleaning and maintaining your automobile's entire cooling system, while helping to maximize cooling system efficiency.

WYNN'S XTEND Power-Flush unit uses pressurized water and air to flush even those hard-to-reach areas of your cooling system. So at now, before a dirty cooling system can cause your heater — and your blood — to run cold.

Bell will bill in a new way

There will be a new way of billing for telephone service starting September 1 in Bell Canada territory.

On that day, restructured telephone rates will come into effect for Bell Canada customers, providing separate charges for lines and the rental of telephones and other equipment. Monthly rates for basic local telephone service have traditionally included the rental of the first telephone.

Now, customers will have a choice of where they obtain their telephones. Private line business or residence customers can continue to lease sets from Bell or purchase them from Bell or any other supplier.

Effects of the new rates on customers' accounts will vary. For some, the monthly telephone bill will decrease; for others it will increase.

"It all depends on the type and number of services and equipment each customer leases from Bell," said John Kilpatrick, Bell's manager for the Haliburton exchange.

"This new method of paying for telephone service is a result of a move made by Bell in 1979, when it asked the Canadian Radio-television and Telecommunications Commission, if the attachment of customer-provided equipment was in the public interest," said Kilpatrick.

In August of 1980, Kilpatrick said, the CRTC in an interim decision ruled that Bell Canada customers could purchase their own extensions and connect them to Bell's network by means of a jack, provided the equipment met the requirements for connection that were established at that time.

Following hearings in 1982, the CRTC confirmed the interim decision and also stated that Bell customers no longer had to rent their first set from Bell. At the same time, the CRTC ordered Bell to break out the rates it would charge for the line and for the sets. Bell filed these new rates in March of 1983.

The CRTC approved the restructured rates last March and ordered Bell to put them into effect September 1. The approved rates were designed not to result in any revenue increase for Bell, Kilpatrick said.

Private line business or residence customers will pay $1.35 per month less for basic telephone service because it no longer includes the telephone set.

"However," said Kilpatrick, "customers will now be charged for each telephone they rent from us. Also the rates for many of our premium sets have been reduced."

Bell will continue to repair all leased sets and equipment without additional charge. Those customers who purchase their own sets will have to make their own arrangements for maintenance.

Kilpatrick said Bell was not expecting a significant degree of migration of customers from Bell equipment to their own equipment because the $1.55 rate per set for residence customers is "very good value for the quality of set and the fact there is no extra charge for maintenance."

"Customers should be aware that if they encounter problems with their service, they should make sure it is not their own equipment that is causing the trouble," Kilpatrick said. If Bell makes a repair visit and no trouble is found with its facilities then a charge is applied.

"This diagnostic maintenance charge applies if trouble continues when the customer's equipment is reconnected," said Kilpatrick.

To try and avoid this charge, Kilpatrick said, people should check to see if the trouble is in their equipment before they call Bell for repair service. Customers who purchase their sets should also make sure that the sets they buy meet the technical requirements for connection to the telephone network. Telephone equipment that has been certified by Communications Canada does meet this requirement and is identified by a Communications Canada label.

For technical reasons, party-line customers cannot own their own equipment, and as a result their basic telephone bill will remain the same. The new rates also apply to pushbutton telephones. Customers with Touch-Tone telephones will now pay separate rates for the Touch-Tone line and for the set. Also, the Touch-Tone line charge must be paid, even if the customer-owned equipment is connected to it.

The other pushbutton service, Digipulse, which is being phased out as new technology expands, signals the telephone network with the familiar pulses, or "clicks" of the rotary dial set. Customers with this service will also see a change in their monthly rate.

For those Digipulse customers wishing to change to Touch-Tone, Bell will waive the normal service charge from September 1 to February 28, 1985.

Some examples of the new rates in the Haliburton exchange are:

A customer with one black rotary phone rented from Bell will pay a monthly charge of $8.65, an increase of 20 cents. A customer with two black rotary phones rented from Bell will pay $10.20, a reduction of 25 cents. A customer with one regular Touch-Tone phone will see the bill go from $11.80 to $12.00, an increase of 20 cents. A customer with two Contempra Touch-Tone sets will see the bill go from $19.30 to $17.55. A customer with one Digipulse set will see the bill go from $11.80 to $11.35. A customer with two Digipulse sets will see the bill go from $13.30 to $14.60.

All Bell customers are receiving an account insert with their August telephone bills, giving them a breakdown on the new rates.

Walkers not needed

By NINA LITTLE,
Infant Development
Consultant of the
Wellington-Dufferin-Guelph
Health Unit

Do walkers, or wheeled support seats, help a baby walk sooner? Careful infant research over the past 20 years indicates that a baby walks almost exclusively according to an inner schedule of motor development. Except when a baby is confined in orthopedic devices a baby will walk when all systems are ready.

Human babies follow a certain developmental pattern whereby learning head control leads to sitting balance, learning to sit alone prepares the child for creeping "on all fours" and learning to creep prepares the child for walking.

There are a number of factors which contribute to readiness for walking. Baby's back muscles must be strong enough to keep him upright and balanced over his legs and feet. And he must have developed certain balancing and protective responses (such as putting his arms and hands out), which will protect him from serious injury during the many falls he'll experience as he learns to walk.

Through creeping, baby learns to use his arms and legs rhythmically and alternately while holding his head up to see where he is going. In addition, the muscles which support the flexible bones of your baby's feet must be strong enough to hold the bones in good position for standing. Left to himself, the baby will creep and pull to a standing position. Later he will begin to sidestep while holding on to a support. A baby needs lot of practice in creeping, balancing, and standing activities, to strengthen his muscles, improve his balance, and lead to strong standing and walking positions. Walkers may steal from these essential readiness activities.

In a walker, your baby gets no stable standing practice. Any random leg movements push the walker from place to place. "Sculling", the sideways pushing that a baby does to make the walker move, uses different muscles than those used in actual walking. The lower leg and foot muscles are used rather than the upper thigh muscles which are crucial to strong, stable walking. Rather than training a baby to walk, the walker may actually slow down natural progress by restricting baby from crawling around. Every child should be given a rich, unlimited career of pulling up, crawling and creeping.

Walkers do provide some pleasure for babies in the eight to 10 month range by giving them an early taste of future mobility. However, because of the high cost for short periods of use, coupled with considerable risk of accidental injury, we recommend careful thought about purchasing a walker. Thousands of babies a year are involved in walker-associated

By H. JEAN BROWN

Chilled soup is ideal for the hot summer months, very refreshing for lunch and a cool complement to the big dinner. Cold soup is by no means new in the world of recipes. The French introduced vichyssoise more than a century ago. The Spanish came up with gazpacho some years later. These are both popular soups but cuisine has so many more than days. The south is particularly noted for its avocado soup and New Orleans chefs for their chilled jellied consomme or madrilene.

Avocado Soup

1 large avocado peeled
10 oz. chicken stock
2 tsp. lemon juice
1 tsp. ascorbic acid*
¼ cup white wine
1 1/8 cup cream (W)
½ tsp salt pepper
pinch cayenne
Heat broth to boiling, pour into blender, scoop pulp of avocado and add with ascorbic acid to blender. Puree, add cream and wine. Blend 30 seconds. Stir in lemon juice, salt and pepper and cayenne. Cover well and chill. Garnish with chopped dill.

* This is a colour keeper and can be purchased at the drug store.

Pumpkin Soup

1½ cups heavy cream
2 cups chicken stock
14 or 19 oz. can pumpkin
½ tsp. grated ginger
Blend and top each serving, well chilled, with a sprinkling of curry and chives.

Quick Jellied Consomme

2 cans consomme well chilled
a few tblsp lemon juice of sherry parsley
If well chilled, the consomme will be jellied when removed from tins. Break coarsely into bowls, sprinkle with lemon juice and garnish with parsley sprigs.

Coboconk News

By SHEILA LAKE

Lorne and Isabel Sleeman recently enjoyed a few days with daughter, Darlene and her husband Al Bone at Welland.

Thane and Terrie Yeo enjoyed a birthday party held for his niece in Toronto last weekend.

A couple of ladies are convalescing after surgery in Ross Memorial Hospital. Mrs. Edna Venning and Mrs. Ruby Greer are both doing quite well and looking forward to being home soon.

Charlie Abbott returned home to Hazelton, England on Friday after spending the summer with his niece, Frances Farrow and family.

Sheila Lake (not I, my sister-in-law) arrived at the Toronto Airport on Friday from Buckie, Banffshire, Scotland, to live again in our area. A native of Scotland, she lived here a number of years, then returned to Scotland for a number of years.

Now she is back to stay, as her son Carl and daughter Roslyn live here and another son Blair, travels as he is with the English Army. We welcome her back to stay.

My sister, Ada Fisher of Lindsay and I travelled to the Brown Funeral Home at Eglington and Dufferin St., Toronto a week ago to pay our respects to the family of the late Horst Popig, who died very suddenly. Horst's wife Marion, has been a friend for many, many years. I also had a surprise visitor Thursday morning when Marie Montgomery of Shelburne and Mildred Hannah of Kleinburg, called on their way home after a stay at a friend's cottage near the Red Umbrella at Carnarvon.

The Pioneer Days were a big success and weather was favourable. The park was a beehive of activity on the 18th.

Walkers are risky

injuries. Most of them are head injuries resulting from tipping over or falling down stairs. Other include entrapment of the baby's fingers, bruises and leg injuries from backing into hot oven doors and sharp corners.

If you do decide to purchase a walker, or if someone offers one as a gift, we suggest the following guides to protect your baby from needless injury:

Visibility: keep your baby in sight.

Tipping: move extension cords, throw rugs, and objects that impede forward motion.

Outdoor hazards: avoid curbs, rough areas, and areas surrounding a pool or open water.

Time limits: limit use to 15 minutes so muscles are not stressed and crawling time is not used up.

Age limit: don't use walkers with babies who are under six months of age or unable to sit up, or babies over 13 months old whose weight and size make walkers tip easily.

Seat: enclosed, adjustable seats are safer and more durable than suspended bicycle-type seats.

Shape: circular walkers with multiple casters offer superior stability to four-wheeled, spring-action seats. Ideally, the leg area should also be enclosed. Never put a baby in an X-framed collapsible walker unless the coils and locking devices have a protective covering.

Exterior safety: the walker should have no sharp protrusions or bolt heads which a baby could fall into from outside the walker.

Tray design: choose walkers with smooth trays rather than those that have beads or wheels on the tray. Both have injury potential in falls, as well as being hazardous if they are dislodged.

As a result of the inquest into the death of six month old Eric Graham who died on September 10, 1983, from subdural hemorrhage following an accidental fall down the stairs in a baby walker, the jury recommended that: the baby walker is a non-useful lethal toy and should be completely banned; consideration be given to informing the public, already in possession of walkers, of the potential hazards.

In addition, the Coroner requested that a short information sheet listing the relevant facts about baby walkers should be prepared and distributed through various channels including Boards of Health. There was "evidence at the inquest that Boards of Health now play a major role in the prenatal and postnatal education of new mothers."
